

Copy-write Editorials.

There's going to be a union great,
But no wedding bells will jingle,
When in October at Panama,
Waters of two oceans mingle.

The idea of having a home coming for Christian county absentees during fair week is a good one.

An airship ran wild in Prussia Thursday and killed four people and injured two in the crowd.

In that election up in Maine, the Bull Moosers were not as good to the Democrats as they were last year.

The impeachment trial of Gov.
Sulzer, of New York, is set for next Thursday. Sulzer is a good deal better than some of the fellows who are after his scalp.

Judge A. B. Nell, of the criminal court, says he is going to start a vigorous enforcement of the prohibition laws, which have heretofore been entirely ignored in Nashville.

Mrs. Walter V. Pomeroy, of Los Angeles, has been adjudged the most beautiful woman in California and her photograph has been entered in the international beauty contest in Brussels.

Several primary election contest cases have been set for hearing in the Court of Appeals for next Monday. The court has given precedence to these cases, and all motions connected with them will be heard that day.

Interest and enthusiasm continues to develop in the Good Roads Whirlwind Campaign of Graves county.
The two days of Oct. 15 and 16 promise to be the greatest days the county has ever experienced in road working. Everybody will work the roads on those days. We are still waiting on Editor Jim Lemon to travel the most dirt.

The state Democratic central and executive committees instructed State Chairman Rufus H. Vansant to name a campaign committee of five including himself as ex-officer chairman, and to continue John W. Wood, of Ashland, as secretary, and retain headquarters at Ashland during the campaign. Chairman Vansant appointed on his campaign committee
June W. Gayle, of Owenton; W. B.
White, of Mt. Sterling; J. W. Boston, of Calhoun, and J. K. Wells, of Paintsville.

OVER 600

Cases On The Docket For The September Term Of Circuit Court.

Yesterday was the last day for filing suits for the fall term of Circuit Court, which will convene here Monday, September 22. Up to 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon 116 appearances had been filed. This number was probably increased by a dozen or more before the day was over. In addition to the appearance docket there are 385 continued equity cases, 53 continued common law cases and 54 commonwealth cases. There are three murder cases on the docket.

SOLDIER MATERIAL SCASCE

Illiteracy Bars Otherwise Elig- ible Men From Army.

About two and a half months ago recruiting Officer Soots came here and opened a station for men who might want to join the regular army.
During the time the office has been open for examination there have been 28 applicants and about one third have been received, five of them colored. The cause of so many men physically able to do duty as soldiers being rejected is inability to read and write. The enlistments have averaged about one a week, but that is better than when a recruiting station was opened here two years ago.

ONE SESSION WON 3 TO 1

Board Met Thursday and Vexed Question Was Finally Settled.

TWO SUBSTITUTE TEACHERS.

Vote For One Session 429, For Two Sessions Was 139.

The Board of Trustees of the City Public Schools met Thursday afternoon and disposed of the one and two session question, after the votes were opened and counted. The patrons of the schools expressed their preference and those favoring the one session won out nearly three to one. The number voting for one session was 429 and those wanting two sessions sent in 139 votes, majority in favor of one session 290.

As the board had left the vexed question to the parents of the pupils there was but one thing to be done, and the one session was made the order. This settles the question for the future.

Superintendent Marion met with the board. Owing to the crowded condition of the Clay street school and the Virginia school it was absolutely necessary to elect two other teachers.

A rule of the board gives the Superintendent the right to name "substitute" teachers, subject to ratification by the board. As Prof.
Marion has just started upon his first year as Superintendent he told the board that he would much prefer the board to select the substitutes, as he was not well enough acquainted to do so. The board then selected Misses Fannie Campbell and Ruby Eshman.

Miss Fannie Campbell is a daughter of Mr. Gabe L. Campbell near the city on the Canton pike. She is a young lady of fine mind and attractive personality, but has had no experience in teaching, being one of the 1912-13 graduating class of the High School. Those who know her will believe she will prove equal to the responsibilities she assumes as a number of the faculty.

Miss Ruby Eshman is a daughter of Rev. J. B. Eshman, pastor of the Cumberland Presbyterian church.
She has had experience in teaching for some time and her ability is beyond question. Last year she taught at Cowan, Tenn. In order to be nearer home this year she accepted a flattering call to go to Madisonville and teach in the public schools.

LUCIAN DAVIS

Will Move Remainder of House- hold Effects Monday.

Although the finishing touches of Lucian H. Davis' pretty new home on South Virginia street have not been completed, he will move the remainder of his household goods next Monday. He began moving on Sept.
1. Mr. Davis vacates the house which he sold on East Seventh street to Mrs. Mayo Bordeaux, of Russellville, several months ago.
Mrs. Bordeaux and little daughter and Mrs. Bordeaux's mother will move here the first of next week.

Named For Middy.

Representative Caleb Powers, of the Eleventh Kentucky District, has announced his nomination of candidates for the entrance examination for Annapolis Naval Academy. Principal John Parker Hill, of Somerset, Ky., alternate Charles N. Huff, of Harlan, Ky.

MRS. HARDY DIED TUESDAY

Was Wife of Former President of The McLean College.

LEAVES HUSBAND AND CHILD

Remains Were Carried to Morganfield Thursday For Interment.

The many friends here of Rev. J.
W. Hardy, a former President of McLean College, will deeply regret to hear of the death of his wife, Mrs. Sarah Buckner Hardy, of Union county, this state. The Courier-Journal of Wednesday contained the following:

"Mrs. J. W. Hardy, wife of the Rev. J. W. Hardy, financial secretary of Transylvania University, died yesterday at Nashville, Tenn., where she was on a visit. Mrs. Hardy had gone to Nashville about a month ago, and soon after became ill. Besides her husband Mrs. Hardy is survived by her son, Paul, 9 years old. The funeral services were at Morganfield, Ky.

DR. CROSSFIELD

Home Coming Day at the 9th Street Church of Christ, Sun- day, Sept. 14.

The Ninth Street Church of Christ and all departments of it, will enjoy a sort of Fall Rally next Sunday.
Dr. R. H. Crossfield, of Lexington, President of Transylvania University, will preach and lecture. Mrs. Perkins will give special attention to the music. Those who have had vacations, whether at home or away from home, are expected to come in from their vacations and recreations and take their parts in the work of the church. The time, if not the weather, calls for the renewal of all forms of work of which the church is engaged. Such is the idea of the leaders in it. These services of Sunday will be followed by others not less interesting. Most noteworthy in the plans of these fall meetings is the provision to record the attendance of individuals. It is proposed that each member of the congregation shall keep a record of his own attendance at all regular services for his own rebuke if he is delinquent—for his own encouragement if he is faithful.

Dr. Crossfield will be remembered here as the conductor of the most effective revival in outward results at least which ever occurred in the Ninth Street Church. He will be welcomed and heard with great enthusiasm at the work of this fall.

REVIVAL

At Christian Church, Pem- broke, Under Way.

Rev. Ward Russell is holding revival services at the Christian church, Pembroke. The services have been in progress all this week.
How long they will continue we have not learned.

Mr. Russell is pastor of the Christian church at Trenton. He is a forceful and earnest preacher and great results are expected before the meetings close. He has been assisted in his work by Prof. L. E.
Foster, of this city. Mrs. Foster went up Thursday afternoon to assist in the singing.

Secretary Lane Sick.

Franklin K. Lane, Secretary of the Interior, who is suffering from an attack of heart disease at Berkeley, Cal., is expected to be restored to health in a few days.

THAW STILL IN COURT

Fight Against Extradition To Take Place In New Hampshire.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Closely Guarded In The Small Town Where He Was Arrested Last.

Colebrook, N. H., Sept. 12.—
There was no court proceeding yesterday, Thaw's arraignment being put off by mutual consent until ten o'clock today, and Thaw's lawyers, apparently thinking him safer in the custody of the sheriff than at large, abandoned their attempt to release him on a writ of habeas corpus.

Unless more delay intervenes,
Thaw will be brought before Justice Carr on the complaint that he is wanted in New York for conspiracy.
Counsel for New York will ask that Thaw be remanded until a requisition warrant can be presented to Gov.
Felker and that he can be removed to the county jail at Lancaster. Then will begin the real fight against extradition.

MEETING POSTPONED

Fiscal Court Was to Consider Appropriation for Jeff Davis Park.

The Fiscal Court was to have been called to meet Thursday to hear an application by Capt. John H. Leathers, of Louisville, Capt. S. A. Cunningham and Capt. Chas. F. Jarrett for an appropriation for the Jefferson Davis Park at Fairview. The two first named gentlemen found it impossible to be here and the meeting was postponed to some time in the future. The meeting at Elkton was also postponed indefinitely.

HIGH OFFICIALS

Of The Cumberland Telephone Co. In The City.

Col. W. T. Gentry, of Atlanta, President of the Cumberland Telephone Co., and Mr. Leland Hume, Vice President, of Nashville, were in the city yesterday, coming through from Nashville in an automobile.
It was Col. Gentry's first visit to his interests here and he expressed himself as much pleased with Hopkinsville.

May Visit Mexico.

Mr. Oscar Westendarp, of Berlin,
Germany, recently died and his son,
Mr. Oscar G. Westendarp, of Monterey, Mex., who is a son-in-law of former Mayor F. W. Dabney, of this city, has gone to Germany to be with his mother for several weeks.
It is probable that Mr. Dabney will leave in a few days to remain with his daughter until her husband's return. Monterey has not been in the trouble zone during the latest revolution and Mr. Westendarp's family has not thought it necessary to leave Mexico.

Three Grandchildren.

Mr. R. F. Rives, the "Wheat King" of Christian county, became a grandfather for the thirteenth time Thursday night when a son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Rives, who lives with him on one of his big farms. This makes the third time within a month that Mr. Rives has become a grandfather. A daughter was born to Dr. and Mrs. J. L.
Barker, of Pembroke, and a son to Mr. and Mrs. John Helm, of Terrell, Texas, the mothers being his daughters.

HOWSE IN A GALLOP

Nashville Mayor Wins Over the Entire Field by Big Plurality.

PRIMARY IS HELD THURSDAY

Immense Vote Polled and Election Without Serious Disorder.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 12.—Complete unofficial returns in Thursday's non-partisan primary, the first of its kind ever held in Nashville, gave Howse, for mayor, and Andrews, for commission, big majorities over their combined opponents. Elliott, for commissioner of streets, lost to the field by the narrow margin of 253 votes, and will be in the run-off with Stainback, his closest competitor.

For Mayor

Howse, 7,452.
Cooper, 5,281.
Meeks, 1,383.
Eakin, 98.
Howse's majority over all opponents, 690.

The vote cast broke all previous records, totaling 14,727. The largest vote previously cast in a municipal election was two years ago, when 12,692 persons exercised the right of suffrage in the Howse-Gillespie contest.

Andrews was named for commissioner of finance and Elliott let for commissioner of streets.

RUNAWAY GIRL FOUND

Hiding In an Abandoned Mine Near Nortonville.

Madisonville, Ky., Sept. 12.—After living in the cliffs and woods for the last three or four days Maudie Gamblin, aged sixteen, was found in the old Oak Hill coal mines, eight miles south of this city, by Sheriff
J. B. Stanley and Deputy Claud Ford.
A warrant was caused to be issued by her father, John Gamblin, of Nortonville, one-half mile from the mines, for the arrest of two young men of Nortonville.

The girl, it is claimed, has been missing from her home for the last few days. Her father came to this city and had the warrant sworn out against Fred Brown and another boy of Nortonville on the charge of luring his daughter from his home.

The old mine in which the girl was found has not been worked for over two years, and is a gloomy old cavern. When the officers approached the opening they entered, not thinking of there being any possibility of any human being in the dark chasm, but going only a short way stumbled over something, and after striking matches found the girl in a crouching position, with a small pistol in her hand. The officers quickly took charge of her and the gun.

The girl said that she would never live at her father's house again and would live in the wilds before returning to her home, but the officers took her in charge and delivered her with the gun to her father.

The officers arrested Fred Brown, of Nortonville, and brought him here and lodged him in jail, but the other boy made his escape in the woods.
The girl's father notified the Sheriff last night that he and his daughter would be in Madisonville today and would have warrants sworn out for the arrest of three more young men.
The citizens of Nortonville are very much wrought up over the outrage.

Democratic Committee.

The Democratic County Committee is to meet to-day in the city court room. Every member of the committee should be present. One o'clock is the hour.

MAYOR OF NEW YORK

Wm. J. Gaynor Expired in Mid-ocean on Healthseek-ing Voyage.

MUCH DISTINGUISHED CAREER

Farmer's Son, Self-Educated,
He Rose to Nation Wide Prominence.

New York, Sept. 12.—William J.
Gaynor, mayor of New York City, voyaging over the sea on the steamer Baltic in the hope of regaining his strength to enter the three-cornered municipal campaign as a candidate for re-election, died suddenly ly on the Baltic as the steamer was within a few hundred miles of the Irish coast yesterday afternoon. He had succumbed to heart failure, the message said.

Later dispatches from his son, Rufus W. Gaynor, who was his father's only traveling companion, gave details which showed that the end had come with shocking suddenness.

Plans for a public funeral to be held probably on Monday, Sept. 22, will be made tomorrow by the board of estimate. Late advices from abroad say the body may be transferred from the Baltic to the steamer Cedric, sailing from Queenstown tomorrow, or if the arrangement cannot be effected, to the Lusitania, sailing from Liverpool on Saturday, and will arrive in New York on Friday or Saturday of next week.

The New Mayor.

The death of Mayor Gaynor automatically transferred the office of Mayor to Col. Adolph L. Kline, a republican, president of the board of aldermen. He took the oath of office yesterday and his first official act was to call the board of estimate together to lay plans for the public funeral service of his predecessor.

Mayor Kline then declared that during his short term of office, which will terminate Jan. 1, 1914, he would carry out the policies of Mayor Gaynor so far as he knew them.

GOOD CORN CROP.

Average of About 8 Barrels To the Acre.

Mr. J. T. Stump brought to this office Thursday morning samples of Boone county white and yellow corn, the finest we have seen this year.
Mr. Stump came here from Georgetown, Ky., about two years ago and rented the James C. Johnson farm, twelve miles from the city on the Clarksville pike. The farm is now owned by Mr. Hembry, of Murfreesboro, Tenn. The sample ears measured from 10 to 12 inches in length and were large, well filled ears. Mr.
Stump says he thinks the crop will measure up to 1,000 barrels and he will have a surplus of 600 barrels.

WESTERN UNION OFFICE

To Have New Ass't Operator And Is Being Repaired.

Mr. J. T. Wilson and Mrs. Wilson are to arrive here Monday from Mt. Sterling and take up their permanent residence here. Mr. Wilson was assistant operator at the Western Union Telegraph office several months ago, but on account of Mrs.
Wilson's health Mr. Wilson secured a transfer to Mt. Sterling so that she could have the attention of her mother. Mr. Wilson takes his old position.

Painters have been busy this week repainting and revarnishing the office.

Hopkinsville Kentuckian

Published Every Other Day, TUESDAY, THURSDAY and SATURDAY MORNINGS, BY
CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

Entered at the Hopkinsville Postoffice as Second Class Mail Matter.

SUBSCRIPTION RATES:

ONE YEAR.....$2.00
SIX MONTHS.....1.00
THREE MONTHS......50
SINGLE COPIES......5c

Advertising Rates on Applications 312 SOUTH MAIN STREET.

Democratic Ticket.

State Senator—R. M. Salmon.
Representative—J. C. Duffy.
County Judge—Walter Knight.
County Clerk—Lucian J. Harris, Jr.
County Attorney—Ira D. Smith.
Sheriff—Jewell W. Smith.
Assessor—W. J. McGee.
Jailer—A. E. Mullins.
School Supt.—L. E. Foster.
Coroner—J. H. Rice.

MAGISTRATES.

District No. 2—J. M. Morris.
" " 3—Sylvester Reese.
" " 4—W. W. Garrott.
" " 5—L. D. Rogers.
" " 6—C. L. Dade.
" " 7—J. W. Cox.
" " 8—C. W. Lyle.

CONSTABLES.

District No. 2—T. S. Winfree.
" " 3—J. F. Adeock.
" " 4—L. W. Means.
" " 5—C. L. Hight.

COUNCILMEN.

First Ward—Chas. J. Gee.
Second Ward—S. G. Buckner.
Third Ward—J. A. Southall.
Fourth Ward—G. W. Carlross.
Sixth Ward—R. M. Woodridge.
Seventh Ward—Bailey Russell.

Another corner is said to be headed this way.

A somnambulist walked out of a two-story window in hotel at Huntsville, Ala. It waked him up.

Secretary Daniels is writing a life of President Wilson, which is nearly completed.

A marriageable widower who has been making a study of the matter, says there are 23 widows living on one street in Hopkinsville. Then why not skid off?

Europe doesn't get rid of one trouble before another begins. Just as the news is given out that Mrs. Pankhurst is coming to America, comes the information that Vesuvius is preparing for another eruption.

At St. Louis $2,500,000 of paper money in $5,000 and $10,000 new bank notes, were destroyed by the sub-treasury because the denominations were too large for general circulation. They should have been sent to Hopkinsville for use in real estate deals.

AT THE CHURCHES

First Baptist Church—Rev. C. M. Thompson, Pastor. Services as usual.
Sunday School—9:30 a. m.
Morning Service—11:00 a. m.
B. Y. P. U.—6:00 p. m.
Evening Service—7:00 p. m.

Second Baptist Church—Rev. W. R. Goodman, Pastor.
Sunday School—9:45 a. m.
Preaching—11 a. m.
Preaching—7:45 p. m.
Prayer meeting every Wednesday night—7:45 p. m.

Methodist Episcopal Church—Rev. A. R. Kasey, Pastor.
Sunday School—9:30 a. m.
Morning Service—10:45 a. m.
Epworth League—6:15 p. m.
Evening Service—7:00 p. m.
Prayer meeting at 7:00 p. m. every Wednesday.

Westminster Presbyterian Church—Rev. C. H. Branch, Pastor.
Sunday School—9:30 a. m.
Men's Bible Class—10:00 a. m.
Morning Service—10:45 a. m.

First Presbyterian Church
Sunday School—9:30 a. m.
Christian Endeavor—6:15 p. m.
Weekly Prayer Meeting—Wednesday—8:00 p. m.

Cumberland Presbyterian Church—J. B. Eshman, Pastor.
Sunday School at 9:30.
Preaching at 11 a. m.
Christian Endeavor 7:00.
Preaching at 8:00 p. m.

PRESENTS WERE WAITING HIM

Forfeited Trinkets Were at Bottom of Mill Pond Where Sweetheart Had Thrown Them.

A young mill hand, having lost his sweetheart through his own botheaded folly, first threatened to commit suicide, and then became vulgarly insistent in his demands for the return of the presents he had given her.

"What good will they be to you if you're goin' to drown yourself in 't mill pond?" she scoffed.

"Never you mind. I want them back," he said evasively.

"Very well, I'll see that you have them," the girl reluctantly agreed.

But five days passed and the young man still bemoaned the loss of the forfeited trinkets. Once more he requested and their return.

"Oh, lad, I wish you'd stop worryin' me," sighed the girl, anxious by now for a reconciliation, "I've given 't presents up long since. They're waiting for at 't bottom o' 't mill pond, tied up in a red handkerchief; you can't miss but see 'em when you jump in."—Manchester Guardian.

SPORTING ITEM.

Wifey—See here, George, I thought you said you had been duck hunting, but these ducks you brought home are tame ducks.

Hubby—Y-e-s, m' dear; I tamed 'em after I (hic) shot 'em.

Back to the Author.

The woman was the author of a cook book that had been published at her request with wide margins and occasional blank pages for notes and additional recipes. Often she had expressed a wish to see an old copy of the book and find out to what use the blank spaces had been put. One day in a second-hand book store her husband unearthed an old volume. Noticing that it had been anticipated freely, he bought it. After a day or two he said:

"How about the notes in that cook book? Were they interesting?"

"No," she said curtly; "they didn't amount to anything."

When he got a chance he looked through the book himself. Every note the book contained was a remedy for dyspepsia and stomach trouble.

Knew 'Em Too Well.

The president of a small college was visiting the little town that had been his former home, and had been asked to address an audience of his former neighbors. In order to assure them that his career had not caused him to put on airs, he began his address thus:

"My dear friends—I won't call you ladies and gentlemen—I know you too well to say that."—New York Globe.

To Save Time.

"Did your wife go to Schenectady for the summer as she intended doing?"

"No, I changed her mind."

"You changed her mind?"

"Yes, you see she expects me to write to her every day."

"Well, it don't cost any more to send a letter to Schenectady than it does to anywhere else."

"No, but look at the time it takes to address an envelope to that town."

Taking No Chances.

"I see," said the editor of the New York Whang, "that some half-baked scientist schedules the end of the world for next Saturday."

"Yes, yes," said the star reporter.

"I've got the story all ready. It won't happen."

"Better write up the other side, though. If it does happen, we don't want to get scooped."

Too Tame.

"Was anybody killed or maimed in that last automobile race?"

"Not a soul."

"Then if they are going to turn races into safe and sane affairs, where is there going to be any fun?"

Laid at Rest.

Bacon—I understand some of your hens have stopped laying?

Lighter—You've got that right.

"What's the matter?"

"Oh, they got mixed up with some passing automobiles."

The Need.

"There is a lot of water in stocks and bonds nowadays."

"Maybe that is why the commercial interests are trying to get hold of Niagara Falls."

Neighborly Chat.

"What kind of a housewife is Mrs. Gadaway?"

"Well, I've heard a hoarse whisper to the effect that her husband dars his own socks."

SUCCESS OF SMITH

Story of How an Apparently Aimless Boy Became a Great Composer.

By D. H. TALMADGE.

Willy Smith—fair-haired, dreamy, worthless Willy, as we called him at school—slammed into my office one day last week, and plumped into a chair at my elbow.

"Congratulations, old chap!" he gasped.

I did so, then asked him somewhat crossly why.

"Haven't you heard it?" he asked.

"Not a word of it," I replied.

As a matter of fact, I had not seen Willy for months, he having left the city early in the autumn to accept a position in a village mercantile establishment somewhere in an adjoining commonwealth. It was a plain job in an ordinary country store that he had been given by a kind-hearted uncle, but it was Willy's job and he had a perfect right to call it by any term he chose. I respected the privilege, because I had accepted a position myself.

Willy had never been famous as a discipline of strenuousness in life, for which reason he was not considered to be so well fitted as he might otherwise have been for taking up the struggle of existence. After he left school he pattered about in an aimless way looking for work which was not wearisome. He found several openings, I believe, but the salary attachments thereof were not to his liking, and he had given up in disgust, devoting thereafter many hours of precious time to thumping the piano in his mother's parlor—a decrepit old instrument which whined and shrieked pitifully under the treatment. He was still thumping, and eating with his mother's boarders, when the kind-hearted uncle came to the rescue.

"What!" he exclaimed. "You haven't heard of it?"

"Not a word of it," I repeated.

"Then," said he, rising to his feet and dramatically stabbing the air with his arm, "know that I have achieved one of the greatest musical hits of the day. As you are aware—he tossed his hat to the top of my desk, and excitedly ran his fingers through his saffron hair—"I always had a penchant for music. 'Twas so even when I was a tiny child. I loved music. I yearned to be a composer. 'Twas not a mean ambition. You remember 'the chap who said that thing about writing the songs of a nation? Well, I felt that way—ever so much. But I never received any encouragement, either at home or at school. You fellows thought I was lazy. It wasn't that; it was—"

"Genius?" I suggested.

"That's it. Thanks. I didn't like to say it myself, but that was it, and I had it pretty bad. Mother got a notion into her head after I left school that I ought to take lessons, and I did it for a time just to please her. The time and money were wasted. My instructor said he wouldn't instruct me if I wouldn't practice, and I wouldn't practice the idiotic stuff he gave me, so that ended that. Then I went over yonder and found a sympathetic soul—and glory. Just thought, as long as I was in the city, that I'd drop in and tell you about it for the sake of auld lang syne."

"Glad you did, Willy," said I with-out much enthusiasm. "But you haven't told me about it yet. Get ahead."

"Well, it's a song—a ripper. Colling-wy, up at the Casino, is wild over it. Says he'll sing it Saturday night. Barr & Co., the music publishers, have made me a proposition which I am now considering. It's worth a little fortune to me whichever way I take it. They pronounce the piece the most original composition that has come to their notice for months. Old Barr invited me up to dinner today, but I couldn't go because of mother. Naturally, mother expects me to eat with her when I'm in the city for only a day. I promised uncle I'd be back tomorrow morning. There's a car of flour to be unloaded, and help's scarce. I'd do anything to accommodate uncle; he's never made fun of me. Besides, I've got my wife with me, and she's got some sort of a church entertainment on for tomorrow night."

"Your wife, Willy! Heavens! Are you married?"

"Why, yes. Been married three weeks. Going to get out some announcements soon as this song business is settled. Will send you one. You see, the song and the marriage are rather mixed together. My wife's a teenyqu sort. Does the Eighth musical—one of the prettiest, symphony of somebody or other and the Russian dance and all those things as painfully as anybody I ever heard."

Plays the most difficult music at sight—Mendelssohn, Liszt and those tire-some old humbugs, you know. She's nothing like me. I can read music to beat the orchestra; always could. But she says I don't quite catch the motif whatever in the deuce that is, in the high grade stuff. I don't doubt it a bit. She knows whatever she asserts about her kind of music. She knows other things also. If she didn't, I'd still be wifeless and unsuccessful. You see, she didn't like to marry me because my income consisted entirely of the salary derived from the mercantile establishment where I hold a position."

"I see," said I.

"Yes, well, five weeks ago Sunday night to be exact, I was at her home and we'd been discussing prospects."

and I was feeling pretty glum. I hope deferred meekly the heart sick, as somebody or other said."

"Exactly," said I.

"Yes, well, she was called out of the parlor for something or other, and while she was gone I seated myself at the piano and began to play one of these nocturne things—you've seen 'em—tittle in German—pencil marks here and there to show how far the student got before he had to back out and start again. It happened to be open on the piano, and I played it. There it was right before my eyes, plain as the signature on a mortgage, and I was dashing it off—simply dashing it off, that is all, when she came fluttering into the parlor and asked me whatever, in the name of some musical saint or other whose name has escaped me, I was up to. I confessed. She was silent for several minutes. Then she laughed. Then she solemnized. And then she scurried around and got a lot of music paper and a pen and ink, and told me to play the nocturne again, very retarded. I did so—O, I'd have done anything for that girl."

"Of course," said I. I was beginning to feel a real interest in Willy's story. I had never seen him in a state of animation before. He was quite another fellow.

"Well, after awhile she gently pushed me away from the piano, and played what she called my interpretation of the nocturne. And actually, old chap, it was one of the catchiest little tunes you ever heard—chock full of birds and sunshine and young love—positively great. We found some words for it in a scrapbook that had belonged to her grandfather, and we named it 'Twinkles in the Sunshine,' and I brought it over here to see what would happen to it. And something happened to it. Well, I should think so! Say, I don't mind giving you the figures if you care for them."

He bent forward and whispered into my ears some that made my eyeballs hurt.

"And royalty added to that," he continued, "we were married as soon as possible after my return from that trip. That's all, old chap. Come over and see us Sunday or any time. Stay a week if you can. Must go now. Just thought I'd drop in and tell you about it, you know. Good-by."

"Good-by," I said. "O Willy!"

But he had gone. It did not really much matter. I wished merely to call his attention to the fact that he had neglected to take his hat.

(Copyright, by Daily Story Pub. Co.)

ENGLISH AND AMERICAN LIFE

Writer Makes Comparison of the Comforts Obtainable in the Two Countries.

If I had to compare the comforts of life in England and America, and to sum up the matter briefly, I should say as far as life in public is concerned—that is to say, life in hotels, restaurants, clubs and, perhaps, trains (in England the distances being short, the proposition is hardly the same), and certainly railway stations and buffets and all kinds of hars—everything you get in America is superior, but as far as life in private is concerned—country houses, cottages, farms, town houses, flats and rooms—the comfort in England is incomparably greater, writes Maurice Baring in the Metropolitan.

Of course, some people say that life in private—home life—does not exist in America at all. But those are the kind of generalizations I distrust. Personally I think a small private house in England is a much more comfortable affair than a small private house in America. On the other hand, I think an American bar is much more comfortable and cheerful than our English public house. Again, I think there is a great difference between the English country house, owned by the English rich, and that owned in England by the American rich. In the homes of the American rich you will rarely find a room in which it is possible to sit down with comfort.

American clubs, again, are far more human and cheerful than English clubs. Anything more depressing than the average English club can scarcely be imagined; a series of rooms in which old men in different corners grunt, frown and snore—the rest is silence. In American clubs you feel that everybody is alive and that people go to clubs not to avoid the society of their fellow creatures, but, on the contrary, to enjoy it. And that, after all, was the origin and the initial purpose of all clubs.

Praiseworthy Actions.

Bridget Kelly (cooly)—So yiz wint 't confession yisterdy, did yez? An' yez confessed all th' kisses yez stole from me th' month that's jist gone, I hope?

Officer Keegan—O! did. An' Father Malone sid he didn't rayly blame me.

Bridget Kelly—He sid he didn't blame yez?

Officer Keegan—He did. He sid that wuzn't a sin at all, at all—that wuz a charity.—Puck.

But Always Sure.

"Is the weather service n good one to get in?"

"Well, you're always sure of a raise in it."

"Really?"

"Certainly. Sometimes it's the mercury and sometimes an umbrella."

Not a Bad Plan.

"How are the rehearsals coming on for your daughter's wedding?"

"Going ragged. We're thinking of hiring one of those fellows that stages the big Broadway musical productions."

FOOLED BY BOGUS WEAPONS

Recent Incident in Brooklyn Only One of Many That Have Been Placed on Record.

When Albert Smith of Brooklyn fought a burglar with an empty revolver the other day he only added to a long list of instances in which the housebreaker has been put to flight through a subterfuge. In Smith's case his wife had taken the cartridges from the revolver so that their little five-year-old child, who had taken the weapon from the bureau drawer one day, should not do it again to her injury. It was a revolver just the same.

A bunch of keys more than once has compelled a "bad crowd" to "hold up their hands" when pulled from the hip pocket ostentatiously in the dark. A musician going home one night in the suburbs of Chicago flashed his life at a man who came out of the shadows demanding money and in an instant the man fled. A piece of gaspipe declared to be a bomb was sufficient on one occasion in Cleveland to disperse a fighting mob near the river front. The man who called it a bomb was a detective engaged in keeping the peace during a mill strike.

100 YEARS OLD

Mr. T. Planter—Rastus, they tell me your father is a very old man.

Rastus—Yas, sah. Ef he lives tix nex' Tuesday he'll be an octogenerianum.

PALMY DAYS FOR POETS.

Probably no poet ever enjoyed a greater popularity than Thomas Moore. He was the idol of Ireland. A typical instance of the esteem in which he was held is given in Mr. Stephen Gwynn's biography. In 1835 Moore paid a visit to Bannow. "On the approach to this town from Wexford—where Moore was met by his host—the party was encountered by a cavalcade bearing green banners, and escorted formally to a series of triumphal arches, where a decorated car awaited the poet, with Nine Muses (some of the remarkably pretty girls) ready to place a crown on his head. It had been arranged that the Muses should follow on foot; but as the crowd passed in Moore made three of them get up on the car."

JUVENILE MUSICAL MARVELS.

Precocious as is the latest musical marvel, the eleven-year-old violinist, Duei Kerekjarte, he has had many predecessors even more precocious, both as players and composers. Sir Charles Halle was only four when he first played in public; Hummel made his first appearance at the age of five, Mozart at six, Chopin and Rubinstein at eight; Mozart began composing when only five, while Samuel Wesley wrote a march for one of the Guards regiments at the age of seven. Sir Edward Elgar was twelve years old when he composed his first music for a child's play—a shameful lack of precocity!

LIBERAL.

Nell—She's a woman of liberal views, isn't she?

Belle—Well, I notice she's always giving others a piece of her mind.

GIVE HER TIME.

Marks—Heard from your wife since she went to the shore?

Parks—No; she hasn't run out of money yet.

CAUTIONED HER.

She—My physician says I should have a bite before retiring.

He—Be careful; that's what killed Cleopatra.

BRUTE.

Co-Ed—What tense do I use when I say, "I am beautiful."

Bold Sept—Remote past.—Vermont Crabbe.

She Broke Down Entirely.

Laniz, W. Va. Mrs. Tobe Talbott, of this place, says: "I had been troubled with womanly ailments for some time, and at last I broke down entirely. I got so weak I could scarcely walk across the room. Thanks to Cardui, I improved right off. Now I do my housework, and am feeling well." During the past 50 years, more than a million women have been benefited by taking Cardui. You must believe that Cardui will help you, too, since it helped all these others. Cardui is a safe harmless, vegetable remedy, of positive, curative merit, for women. At drug stores. Try one bottle. It will surely help you. Advertisement.

Preferred Locals.

See J. H. Daggs for contracting building and general repair work of all kinds. Phone 476. Advertisement.

Notice To Tax Payers.

The tax books are now ready and taxes are due. Pay now and avoid the penalty.

LOWE JOHNSON, S. C. C. Advertisement.

For Sale.

One good second hand, 4 H. P. horizontal International gasoline engine, in good running order, at a bargain.

PLANTERS HARDWARE CO. Incorporated. Advertisement.

Farm For Sale!

Buy Dr. T. P. Allen's farm if you want a nice country home. It is for sale and he will sell to suit purchaser. It is well located and in a good neighborhood; contains 90 acres, 7 in timber, 2 in black locust, 12 in 7 year apple orchard, two good tenant houses, new stable and barn, 1 good well and cistern, two ponds; all under good fence. 1-4 mile south of Salem Baptist church, 1-2 mile west of St. Elmo school. Outlet front and back on public road.

DR. T. P. ALLEN, Pembroke, Ky. Advertisement.

FAIR DATES

Bowling Green, Warren county, Sept. 24-28.

Elkton, Todd county, Oct. 2-5.

Glasgow, Barren county, Oct. 1-5.

Hopkinsville, Christian county, Oct. 7-11.

Horse Cave, Hart county, Sept. 24-28.

Mayfield, Graves county, Oct. 8-12.

Morgantown, Butler county, Sept. 11-17.

Murray, Calloway county, Oct. 1-5.

Paducah, McCracken county, Sept. 30-Oct. 3.

Scottsville, Allen county, Sept. 18-21.

One On Old Hen.

Mrs. T. D. McGee, West 18th street, has a Leghorn pullet just four months old that has laid eighteen eggs and is now sitting. She laid six eggs in as many days, and, after "laying off" a few days, commenced again, laying an even dozen more in twelve days.

Gardens Played Out.

The September crop report, issued by the Commissioner of Agriculture, shows a decided falling off in nearly all farm and orchard crops. Gardens are estimated at 44 per cent. of normal.

Fire At Big Rock.

A stock barn, owned by E. B. Melton, of near Big Rock, Stewart County, Tenn., was burned Thursday. It is thought that the fire was started by an incendiary, and blood hounds were taken to the scene and it is thought that a clue has been found to the guilty party.

OVER 55 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &c.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communication strictly confidential. FIDELITY & PATENT AGENCY, 312 Broadway, New York.

Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co., 361 Broadway, New York.
Branch Office, 615 F St., Washington, D. C.

Unusual Offer To Our Readers.

For a limited time, and subject to withdrawal after 30 days, the well known publishing house of the J. B. Lippincott Company, Philadelphia, founded in 1792, offers to the readers of this paper a 12 months' subscription to "Lippincott's Magazine" and a year's subscription to the Kentuckian, both for $3.00. This is the price of a twelve months' subscription to "Lippincott's" alone. Additional to obtaining every issue of this paper for a year, our readers will receive in "Lippincott's," 12 great complete novels by popular authors, 105 short stories, crisp, entertaining, original; 45 timely articles from the pens of masters, and each month some excellent poems with the right sentiment, and "Walnuts and Wine," the most popular humor section in America. To obtain this extraordinary offer prompt action is necessary. Remit to J. B. Lippincott Company, Washington Square, Phila., Pa.

Value of Contentment.

A contented mind is the greatest blessing a man can enjoy in this world, and if, in the present life, his happiness arises from conquering his desires, it will arise in the next from the gratification of them.

Growing in Favor.

The water from the well located on the farm of Luther H. Smithson, near Church Hill, is growing in favor every day. The most obstinate cases of indigestion, constipation and stomach trouble are yielding to the medical qualities of this water by a few days use. Probably half the people who say they have "heart trouble" have nothing but indigestion, sometimes manifestly in an acute form. Try the water from Mr. Smithson's well for a few days and test its virtues for yourself. He delivers it your home at 12 1/2 cents a gallon.

Among the many who are using it with beneficial effects we mention: Flein Clardy, Muncy Moss, Roy Kenner, Gus Brethitt, Jno. C. Hcoe, J. W. Lander, Rev E. W. Barnett, Del. Henderson, John C. Gary. See them. Telephone Coates' drug store or call 633, 5 rings. Advertisement.

Electrify the Pupils.

They are using electricity in primary school education in Stockholm. Just how it is used does not appear, but we are told that the "classroom is subjected to electricity." And records are being kept to ascertain whether the electrically trained youngsters acquire the three Rs with greater precision and dispatch than those that are being brought up on sunlight, common sense and the rod.

PERCY SMITHSON

Livery and Board Stable

HOPKINSVILLE, KY.

EVERYTHING UP-TO-DATE.

Phone 32. Virginia St., Between 7th and 8th.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK

HOPKINSVILLE - KENTUCKY.

UNITED STATES DEPOSITARY.

Only National Bank in This Community.

Capital.....$75,000.00

Surplus.....25,000.00

Stockholders' Liability.....75,000.00

ISSUES TRAVELER'S CHECKS GOOD IN ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD.

HAS A REGULAR SAVINGS DEPARTMENT
Three Per Cent Interest Paid on Savings and Time Deposits

Banking Facilities

With ample working capital, exceptional collection arrangements, and a thoroughly organized office system this bank has the ability and disposition to extend to its customers every facility warranted by safe, conservation banking.

Three per cent interest on Time Certificates of deposit.

BANK OF HOPKINSVILLE

Nat Gaither, President; J. E. McPherson, Cashier,
H. L. McPherson, Asst. Cashier.

$5.55 To Louisville, Ky.,

And Return, Account

KENTUCKY STATE FAIR

Tickets on sale Sept. 13 to 20 inclusive, limited returning Sept. 24, 1913. For further information call on or phone J. C. HOOE, Agent.

"HONEST GOODS AT HONEST PRICES."

FOR RELIABLE WATCHES AND JEWELRY.

You must go to a Reliable, Competent and Experienced Dealer. We make a specialty of Fine and Reliable time-pieces for all purposes. Quality Guaranteed Best, prices lowest.

JAS. H. SKARRY.

The Peoples' Jeweler and Optician, Watch Inspector, L. & N. R. R. If You Buy It From Skarry It's Good.

Job Printing at This Office.

A FEW LITTLE SMILES

Efficiency Expert.

"James," said the efficiency expert, annoyed by the cheerful habit which his chauffeur had of whistling while at his work, "you should remember that the greatest fortunes nowadays are made from the by-products of waste. Hereafter when you whistle, whistle in the tires and save me the expense of a pump."—Harper's Weekly.

She Caught Him.

The young girl confronted him with flashing eyes. "What did you mean," she demanded, "by kissing me as I lay asleep in the hammock this morning?" "But," protested the youth, "I only took one." "You did not. I counted at least seven before I awoke."—Ladies Home Journal.

Poet Loses Time.

"How long does Fennison spend on one of his poems?" "He told me he spent six weeks on the last one he wrote." "You don't say!" "Yes; it took him ten minutes to write it and the balance of the time he was trying to persuade some one to buy it."

The Brute!

"Do you believe that money has germs on it?" "It may have." "What in the world shall we do?" "Don't worry; it would take a mighty active germ to hop from the money to you during the short time that you keep what I give you."

A HOT REBUKE.

Gentleman (to lady who has just taken the seat offered in street car) I beg your pardon. Lady—I didn't speak, sir. Gentleman—Oh! I thought you said "Thank you."

Time's Flight.

Time's flight will frequently dismay. With changes gradual, but immense. The letter that you wrote today May startle you a few years hence.

"The Plot of the Show."

Jones—Well, Smithy, how did you like the show last night? Smith—Oh, fair. Jones—What was the plot? Smith—Don't know. Think it was between the author and the manager to get two dollars out of the audience.—Life.

Too True!

"I can't understand why you wish to lavish your affection on a dog. Why don't you adopt a child?" "Oh, I should be afraid to become fond of a child. If it should die one couldn't have it stuffed and put in a corner of the library, you know."—Fun.

Different Time.

"You seem happier." "Yes," responded the clerk in the department store. "I've been transferred from the silk counter to the grindstone department. And very few women out shopping insist on pawing over that stock."

Now It Is Different.

"I thought they were going to Europe for the summer?" "When did they tell you that?" "Last November." "Oh, everybody was going to Europe for the summer last November."

How He Acts at the Game.

Mrs. Knicker—Did your husband take you to the ball game? Mrs. Bocker—Yes, and I wonder why I can't ever make him talk to the look like he does to the umpire.

Similar Advice.

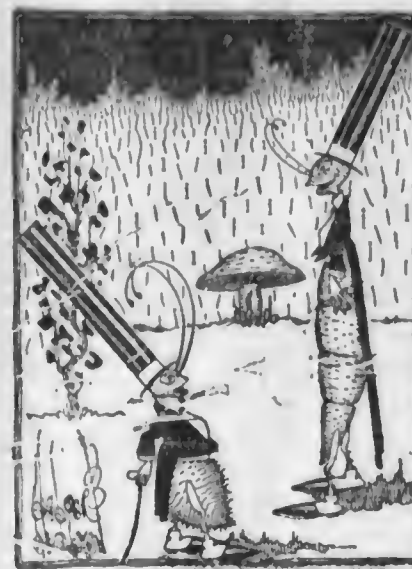

"Some people in this world are like eggs." "In what particular respect?" "They are always getting beaten for other people's deserts."

ALL THE VIRTUES

First Girl (at seashore)—I don't care what kind of a husband I get. Second Girl—Gracious! First Girl—So long as he's rich, handsome, kind and generous.

CLOSE WORK

Mr. Hum Bug—Say, old man, why don't you try to get a little fat on you like me? Mr. Water Bug—Can't. My work takes me into a lot of these small water pipes, and I could never get through them if I was as fat as you.

HANDY ON THE SWITCHBOARD

First Octopus—I come to ask for your daughter's hand in marriage. Second Octopus—Can you provide for her support? First Octopus—Yes; I've got her a job as a telephone operator.

BUSINESS HABIT

"Who is that pushing fellow who is trying so hard to get into our social set?" "I believe he is the fellow who made a lot of money in the lawn mower business."

VERY

Mrs. Rasper—Is she economical? Mrs. Wasper—Well, she's saving her wedding dress for a possible second marriage.

THREE THINGS YOU NEED..

"Kentuckian"

A virile, newsy newspaper with the interest of the entire community at heart. Issues of today are handled without fear or favor. You will find in this paper an up-to-date department for each member of the family. Clean, honest, straightforward—it is a paper your family should not be without.

Second—Technical World Magazine

Is the one magazine that not only entertains in a fascinating manner, but which also instructs. It is the magazine for the busy business man, or for the person who wants to lift away a summer's afternoon, and be agreeably informed at the same time. It is profusely illustrated, and tells in a simple and interesting way of the discoveries of scientists, the achievements of inventors, the feats of engineers and explorers, and the opening of every new field of human endeavor. What Jack London says—"I have just chanced upon my first copy of TECHNICAL WORLD MAGAZINE. There isn't anything like it. I want more, and I cannot wait for them to come, so I am sending you herewith check for which please enter my subscription and send me immediately the last two years' back numbers."

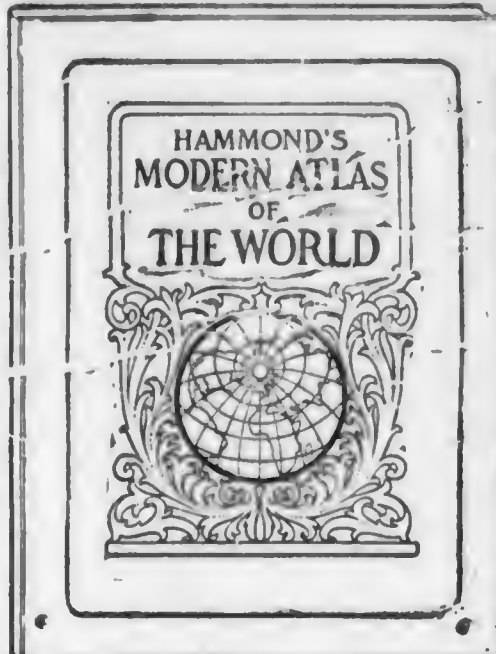

Third—A Fine Atlas

This one is just off the press. This is the year to obtain a new atlas. The 1910 Census has just been completed, this atlas contains the official figures, 128 pages of 3 color maps brought right down to date—every map giving the results of the most recent surveys. All railroads are shown and named, and maps of all large cities are included. There are 21 double page maps showing in detail portions of the U. S. and Canada. Dimensions 10 1/2 x 13 1/2. Bound in stiff linen—Silver Leaf Title. Printed on heavy plate paper. Sells regularly for $3.00. A splendid gift.

ALL THREE
Only $3.80

Special arrangement with Technical World Magazine and the publishers of this Atlas make this offer possible. But it is very strictly limited. You must act immediately.

Send or Bring in Your Order
Today

The Love Letters of a Confederate General

WE begin in the November issue a series of real love-letters written over fifty years ago by one of our national heroes to his sweetheart during the period of '61 to '65. This great general will go down to posterity as having accomplished one of the most brilliant feats of arms in the history of the world. He was as great a lover as he was a general, therefore these letters combine authentic history and exquisite romance. They reveal a human note that no other work of literature has done in a decade; it is war, it is romance, it is history, it is literature. You simply can't afford to miss this wonderful series—an inside story of the Civil War now published for the first time and containing all the freshness of a contemporary happening. These letters will grip you hard, and hold your interest from first to last. Fill out the coupon and send it now before you forget it.

Pictorial Review

The Pictorial Review Co.
222 West 39th St.
New York City

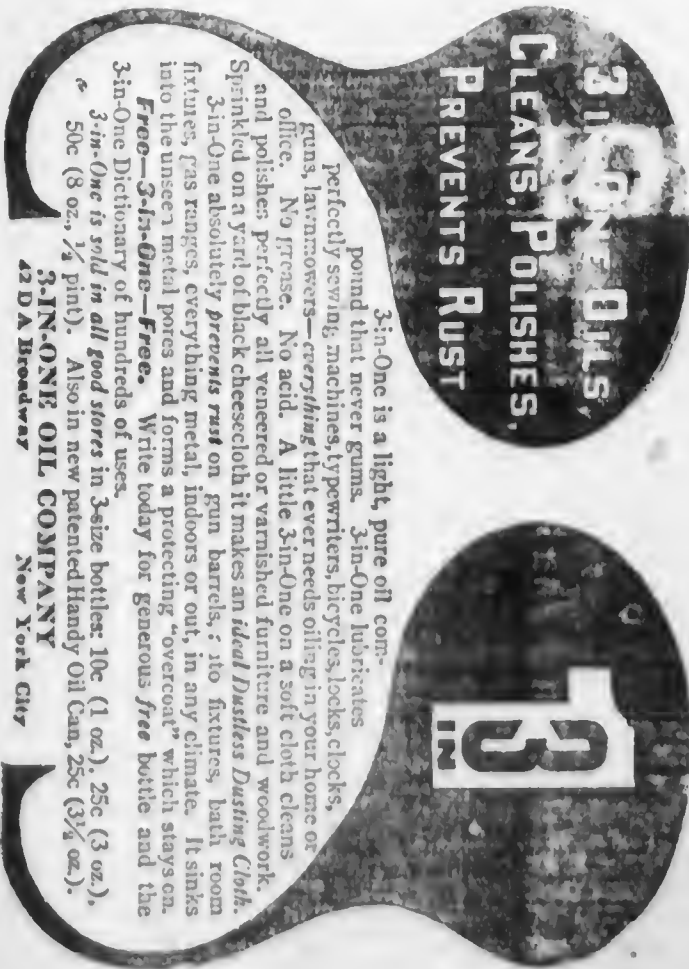

15 Cents a Copy

One Dollar a Year

Enclosed please find 25c. for which please send me P.R. for Nov., Dec. and Jan.

$10,000 in Cash Prizes and Liberal Commissions to our Agents.
Ask for Particulars

Name.....
Address.....
THE PICTORIAL REVIEW CO.
222 West 39th St., New York City

Pretty Sure.

If a man who has a product of his own to sell can continue to think well of it after he has interviewed two or three people who are trying to keep him from finding out that they really want to buy it, he is pretty sure to possess the elements of success.

Guarding an Impression.

"Why doesn't that Parisian playwright accept those challenges?" "He's in a predicament. He is a tragic author and can't afford to let the public see him in anything as funny as a French duel."

ASST ENGINEER

At Western Kentucky Hospital Died Tuesday Night.

Henry Van Hoozer died at the Western Kentucky Hospital last Tuesday night following an operation for liver trouble. He was ill about two weeks.

The deceased died in the prime of young manhood, being only 31 years of age. He was assistant engineer at the hospital for fourteen years and was one of the most reliable employees at the institution and was quite popular with all with whom he came in contact. He is survived by his wife, four sisters and three brothers, namely: Miss E. Van Hoozer, Mrs. E. H. Cobb, M. S. J. L. Cobb and Mrs. Edward Harned; P. M. Van Hoozer, of Memphis and William and Luther Van Hoozer, of this county. He was a member of Greer River Lodge, No. 54, I. O. O. F., and was buried with the hon. of the order in Riverside Cemetery Thursday morning.

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars Reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years, and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out all obligations made by him.

NATIONAL BANK OF COMMERCE, Toledo, O. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75 cents per bottle. Sold by all Druggists. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

THE Planters Bank & Trust Company

ACTS AS EXECUTOR under wills.
ADMINISTRATOR without a will or with the will annexed.
GUARDIAN of a minor or incompetent person.
TRUSTEE to execute trusts or to hold funds impartially.
TRUSTEE FOR BOND ISSUES.
WILLS cared for and filed with charge.

To Close Out

ALL OUR PORCH GOODS AND REFRIGERATORS.

Renshaw & Harton

Furniture and Undertaking.
PHONE: 861 N. H. 1134
Day..... 861 N. H. 1134

GO TO THE OLD RELIABLE M. D. KELLY

to have your eyes examined and fitted with correct glasses; also your fine watch honestly and intelligently repaired. Is always up to date with the best instruments and methods. Over 30 years an optician and jeweler. 25 Years a graduate Optometrist.

No. 8 North Main Street, Opp. Court House.

COOK'S

Cut Rate
Drug Store
CUT GLASS
For WEDDING PRESENTS.
Prices Right.
9th and Main Sts.

RATTLER HAD LITTLE CHANCE

Blacksnake Easily Overcame Deadly Reptile in Battle Witnessed by Interested Spectators.

John Blackford was about to kill a blacksnake here to stop its theft of eggs when the thief earned its liberty by saving the life of his mother, writes a Swartwood (N. J.) correspondent of the New York Sun.

The young man had found the nest of a hen that had taken to laying its eggs in a grove some distance away from the house. He also discovered that the blacksnake had been devouring the eggs as fast as the hen laid them. He determined to ambush the snake and kill it.

He and his mother watched the hen and when the egg was deposited in the nest they crept closer to watch for the thief. In a few minutes the blacksnake appeared, stealthily creeping through the underbrush. Mrs. Blackford was so fascinated at the sight of the blacksnake that she did not hear a soft whirling sound close by her as she stepped back to give John plenty of room in which to dispatch the reptile.

Evidently the whirling sound did not escape the blacksnake. Suddenly it stopped and its whole body seemed to stiffen. More quickly than the eye of Mrs. Blackford could follow, it darted toward her, but a little to the side. As she screamed and jumped back her son leaped to her rescue, but he stopped, too, for he saw what human beings rarely see, a blacksnake fighting a rattler.

The two stood aside and watched the conflict, which was uneven from the start. The long slim blacksnake was too quick for the more sluggish and heavier poisonous one. With its first leap it had clamped its fangless jaws back of the poison head of the rattler and wound its body tight around the other's. In a few seconds the life had been squeezed out of the rattlesnake.

"That snake can have all the eggs on this farm for all o' me," remarked young Blackford when it was over, "and what's more, I'll never kill another blacksnake as long as I live." "That's just the way I feel," said Mrs. Blackford.

Misplaced Sympathy.

Miss Jessie Ackerman, the well-known lecturer, who has traveled all over the world, covering 400,000 miles, in order to gather facts about the awakening of woman, said recently in New York:

"Woman is waking everywhere. The militant suffragettes are doing much to help the awakening in England. They who blame the militants are as unreasonable as Lander.

"The poet Lander, you know, had a violent temper. He raged especially when his meals went wrong.

"His luncheon went wrong one day in Florence, and Lander threw his chef out of the dining room window into the garden.

"But the man's body had no sooner vanished than Lander rushed to the open window after it, thrust forth his head, and cried in heart-broken accents:

"'Good heavens, I forgot my poor violets!'"

Always Feared Napoleon.

Charles Lamb spoke for those who favored Napoleon's detention in England when he wrote to Southey: "After all, Bonaparte is a fine fellow, as my barber says, and I should not mind standing bareheaded at his table to do service to him in his fall. They should have given him Hampton court or Kensington with a tether extending 40 miles round London." Lamb whimsically suggested that if Napoleon remained in England the people might some day elect the Brunswick in his favor, and the government took the suggestion seriously. Now that Napoleon is safely dead, such fear seems absurd—but Napoleon was then alive, and, in view of that fact, no government was safe in saying, "should worry!"

New Educational Requirements.

Thirty-two medical colleges now require two years of college work as a requisite for entrance, according to a writer in the August World's Work. Two more have announced that they will require this in 1914, and two more have announced it for 1915. Twenty-four more colleges have adopted the one-year requirement and 15 more will put it into effect in 1914. Thus, in 75 of the 118 medical colleges now in existence, students graduating as physicians in 1919 or later will be as well equipped to practice as the graduates of only four or five of the very best medical schools were in 1904.

Serious Oversight.

"That's always the way!" said Mr. Growcher. "The people who give the best part of this show aren't mentioned on the program."

"Why," protested the manager, "I have made a point of using all the names possible, even those of the people who make the wigs and shoes."

"Yes; but you haven't mentioned the men who put up the electric signs outside the theater."

The Formal Plea.

"Prisoner," said the court officer, "are you guilty or not guilty?"

"What's the use of my sayin'?" asked the old offender. "My reputation for truth and veracity is so bad nobody would believe me."

Enjoying Himself.

"Got my family in the country now." "And how do you like country life?" "It ain't half bad. I manage to miss the train out about three nights a week."

MULTITUDE OF DRUMSTICKS

Mr. White—Rambo, you seem fond of the leg of a fowl.

Rambo—Deed Ah is. What a great institution de chicken would have been of Providence had given him as many legs as a centipede!

FLOWER SHOP REPARTEE

The White Lily—What makes you so red?

The Red Carnation—I'm blushing for shame to think how much the florist charges for us.

MOST LIKELY

"Money doesn't bring happiness." "Well, it isn't necessary that it should. If you've got money, you can afford to go out and look for happiness."

MANY GEMS

Tess (at the reception)—Mrs. New-riche has on a great many diamonds tonight.

Tom—Yes; she looks like a human chandelier.

ON THE ROAD

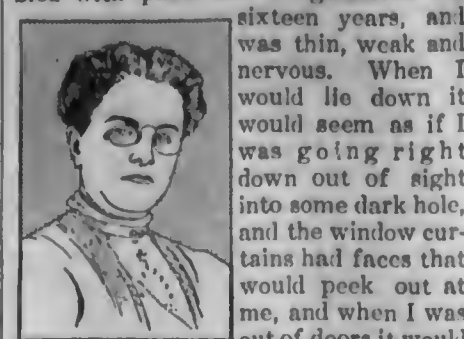

First Actor—Sir, when I played in that town the people dropped their work.

Second Actor—And formed a posse, eh?

SUFFERED AWFUL PAINS

For Sixteen Years. Restored To Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Moretown, Vermont.—"I was troubled with pains and irregularities for sixteen years, and was thin, weak and nervous. When I would lie down it would seem as if I was going right down out of sight into some dark hole, and the window curtains had faces that would peek out at me, and when I was out of doors it would seem as if something was going to happen. My blood was poor, my circulation was so bad I would be like a dead person at times. I had female weakness badly, my abdomen was sore and I had awful pains.

"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and used the Sanative Wash and they certainly did wonders for me. My troubles disappeared and I am able to work hard every day."—Mrs. W. F. SAWYER, River View Farm, Moretown, Vermont.

Another Case.

Gifford, Iowa.—"I was troubled with female weakness, also with displacement. I had very severe and steady headache, also pain in back and was very thin and tired all the time. I commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I am cured of these troubles. I cannot praise your medicine too highly."—Mrs. INA MILL-SLAGE, Gifford, Iowa.

Purely Personal.

Allen Radford has gone to Lexington to attend school.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Harton are in Providence, Ky., visiting relatives.

Mrs. J. B. Torian, of Springfield, Tenn., is visiting her son, Frank Torian.

Mrs. John S. Gaines, of Gracey, visited the family of Mr. C. E. Blake more yesterday.

Thomas Hubbard and wife, of Blytheville, Ark., are here on a visit to relatives.

Mrs. Ed L. Weathers and daughter, of Lafayette, are visiting the family of Judge C. H. Bush.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Robbins, of Los Angeles, Cal., are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Q. L. Higgen, 523 Fourteenth street.

Mrs. Mamie Morrow, after a visit to her brother, Mr. F. L. Torian, returned to her home at Springfield, Tenn., last Tuesday.

Miss Mollie Waksfield returned to her home in Trenton the first of the week, after undergoing medical treatment at the Infirmary.

Miss Mary Belle Page has returned from Nashville and Clarksville, Tenn., where she spent her vacation visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. T. L. Morrow and children, of Hattiesburg, Miss., have returned home after spending the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Herndon.

The Rev. Dr. R. H. McCaslin, Judge J. M. Moss and John B. Rhodes will go to Hopkinsville September 16 to attend the annual meeting of the Muhlenberg Presbytery.

Mrs. George Friend after a visit to Mrs. Geo. C. Abbott, left for her home in Danville, Va., Thursday. Miss Sarah Abbott accompanied her for a brief visit before going back to Radcliff-Macon College for another term.

Another Corn Crop.

Tom C. Jones, son of Col. Ed D. Jones, reports a good yield of corn. He will average eight bbls. per acre and has 50 acres. He is farming on the Torian farm, 9 miles south of Hopkinsville, on the Cox Mill road. There are other farmers in the neighborhood who will have good crops, but there are some who will have almost no corn at all.

In the Good Old Days.

Of course, the old-fashioned belle may have walked barefoot half-way to church to keep from spilling her Sunday shoes, but she didn't put her cologne in the bureau drawer when she went to bed.—Galveston News

All Is Vanity.

"This is a very fine dog, m'am, and cheap at the price," said the dealer. "I've no doubt of it," she replied; "but I don't care to buy him until I'm sure he matches my new gowns."—Judge.

OUT-OF-TOWN PEOPLE

This is a proposition that you can't afford to miss, no obligation whatever on your part.

CUT THIS COUPON OUT

Good for one FREE TICKET to the Rex Moving Picture Show. Good from Aug. 22nd to Sept. 1st. Only 1 ticket allowed each person, if you are a citizen of Christian or adjoining counties but do not live in Hopkinsville, sign your name and address below.

NAME

ADDRESS

And present this at our store and receive a FREE TICKET to the best picture show in Ky.

W. T. COOPER & CO.

Cut the above Coupon and visit our store the first time you are in town. By-the-way the PREMIUM STORE is only 1-2 a block from the REX, you are cordially invited to visit that while so near.

W. T. COOPER & CO.

CITY BANK AND TRUST CO.

CAPITAL STOCK$60,000.00
SURPLUS FUND.....$100,000.00
STOCKHOLDERS LIABILITY.....$120,000.00

On The Honor Roll Of Banks In United States

Give us your business and we can help you in MONEY MATTERS.

SPECIAL LOW RATES TO National Conservation Exposition KNOXVILLE, TENN., AND RETURN

First Class Fare $8.90.

Tickets on sale daily Aug. 30 to Nov. 1st, limited 10 days returning. May be extended to 30 day limit upon payment of fee of one dollar.

Second Class Fare $6.05.

Tickets on sale Tuesday and Thursday of each week, limited 5 days returning. No extension. For further information call on or phone.

JNO. C. HOOE, Agent.

PUBLIC SALE

On Saturday Afternoon at 2 O'clock
Sept., 20th 1913,

I will sell the following at Public Auction to the highest bidder:

1 Brown Mare 8 year old, 15 hands and 3 in. high, will work any where, is sound and perfectly gentle for a lady to drive, a fine family mare.

1 Sorrel Horse 6 years old 15 hands and 2 inches high, will work any where, is sound and gentle for a lady to drive.

1 Top Buggy in good condition.

1 Open Buggy nearly new. Both buggies have rubber tires.

1 Good steel tire Surry in good condition.

2 Sets of good harness with extra collars and hames, etc.

1 Riding Saddle and Bridle and quite a number of other things.

Sale starts promptly at 2 o'clock, at Richard Leavell's Sale stable.

Terms: Credit of six months.

G. W. LYON.

STUDEBAKER

"Old Wagon Contest"

The Studebaker Corporation offered $100 in Gold to the user of the oldest Studebaker Wagons. There were 68 prizes. It took a Wagon 36 YEARS OLD to qualify for the 68th prize. The winners were:

First Prize Wagon 49 years old. (now in use) Levi Dallas, Topeka, Ind.

Second Prize Wagon 48 years old. (now in use) David Clark Bemis, South Dakota.

Third Prize Wagon 47 years old. (now in use) G. H. Bowman, Sandy Lake, Pa.

There were 65 others that had been in use from 47 to 36 years.

This is a remarkable record and shows very plainly that Studebakers build wagons that wear.

We Carry A Complete Line Of Studebaker Wagons.

F. A. Yost Company

Big Money Haul.

Savannah, Ga., September 12.—Officials of the Southern Express Company are reticent as to the disappearance of currency amounting to $61,900 which vanished from a portable safe on an Atlantic Coast line train while in transit from Jersey City to Savannah Thursday. The loss of the money became known when $50,000 of it was to be delivered to the Savannah Bank and Trust Co. The remainder of the money was consigned to banks at Brunswick and Valdosta, Ga. The currency was shipped by the Chase National Bank of New York.

Zam Gets Here.

Zamcona, supposed to be charged with the task of reopening negotiations between the United States and Mexico, remained in seclusion at Washington last night and did not reveal the character of his mission.

Two Explorers Killed.

Word has been received at Ottawa, Can., of the murder of H. V. Radford, of New York, and Geo. Street, of Ottawa, at Shultz Lake, near the Arctic ocean, June 5, 1912.

Details of the alleged murder received in Ottawa by mail say that Radford and Street, in the fall of 1911, left Chesterfield, the most northerly Hudson Bay post, to go inland to trade with the Eskimos at Shultz Lake. On arrival there they arranged to remain with the tribe, but Radford got into an altercation with one of them, who speared him to death. Street, going to his companion's assistance, was speared from behind.

Radford, fellow of the American Geological Society, member of the Arctic Club, New York, left this city on February 12, 1910, for a four-year trip of exploration in Northern Canada. He planned to cover about 6,000 miles through Northwestern British Columbia, Northern Alaska and the east cape of Asia.

Sale of Personal Property.

Elsewhere in this issue appears an advertisement of a sale by Rev. G. W. Lyon of one mare, one horse, a top buggy, one open buggy, one surrey, two sets of harness and a riding saddle and bridle. The sale will be held at Richard Leavell's stable in this city on Sept. 20, beginning at 2 o'clock p. m. Terms: Credit six months. See ad for full particulars.—Advertisement.

Two New Ones.

Two new congressmen have been elected to fill vacancies—John V. Leshner, Democrat, of Pennsylvania, and John A. Peters, Republican, of Maine.

DR. BEAZLEY

Specialist

(Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat)

LIVELY FOOT-BALL PROMISED FOR YEAR

High School to Organize a Team; Has Big Bunch to Pick From.

With every indication pointing to one of the best football teams in the history of the Paducah High School, the first meeting of the candidates for the team was held yesterday morning at the High school. Over 50 boys will "try" for the team. The meeting was a very enthusiastic one. Coach Sherman expressing himself as well pleased over the large number of candidates. This year's team promises to be a light fast eleven, and with hard practice and good coaching will be able to best any eleven in West Kentucky. Of last year's team only three men are missing. Pitt Harth, the star quarterback of West Kentucky; Charlie Rhodes, lineman, and Roy Browning, fullback. With what experienced men that are left and the abundance of new material out, Captain Steinhauer expects to develop a winning team.

Light practice was indulged in yesterday afternoon, the squad kicking and passing and passing the ball. Practice will be continued steadily, heavier work coming in the next few days.

Manager Rice has arranged the following schedule, which is probably the largest ever made for the High School:

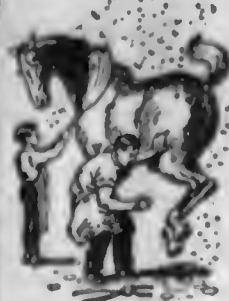

Paducah at Metropolis, October 4.
Metropolis at Paducah, October 11.
Paducah at Murray, October 18.
Princeton at Paducah, October 25.
Cairo at Paducah, November 1.
Paducah at Madisonville, November 8.
Henderson at Paducah, November 15.
Paducah at Owensboro, November 22.
Hopkinsville at Paducah, November 27.
It will be the first time that the Henderson High school ever played in Paducah, while this season will mark the resumption of Athletics with the Cairo high school.—News-Democrat.

Again On The Road.

John P. Thomas leaves Monday for another three months' visit to his old shoe customers. He returned with his samples from Boston a few days since. He will get back home just in time for the Christmas holidays.

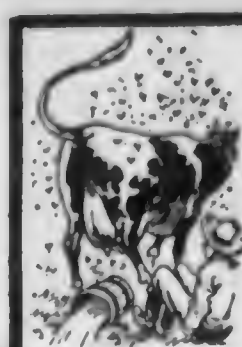

CONKEY'S FLY KNOCKER

Farmers, Dairy men, Stock men and Horseshoers find this a necessity during Fly Season.

Keep the flies off while the smith is doing his work. Conkey's Fly Knocker is better than a boy. A time and money saver. No accidents to horse or horse-shoer, as the animal stands quiet after he is sprayed with a squirt of Conkey's Fly Knocker. Economical. Gives satisfaction. Does just what we claim for it. Sold under our guarantee, money back if you want it. Spray your horse before taking him out for a drive. Save flesh and spirit. Cut down expense for shoes. Spray it in the stable and save horses from kicking out floors. Will you come in and try it on our guarantee?

FLIES MEAN LOSS

wherever Stock is kept.

Conkey's Fly Knocker

MEANS PEACE AND PROFIT. Kills every fly it hits. keeps others away, and one ounce will spray two animals. The pictures tell the story to Dairy men Horseshoers and Horsemen.

SAVE YOUR TIME, TEMPER, AND BROKEN BONES.

We have it in quart 85c, half gallon 60c, gallon $1.00. Try it and be convinced, or bring your horse and we will demonstrate it.

PLANTERS HARDWARE COMPANY.

Incorporated.

L. & N.

$4.75 To Chattanooga, Tenn., AND RETURN, ACCOUNT

Annual Encampment of Grand Army of the Republic.

Tickets on sale Sept. 12 to 19. Limited returning Sept. 27, 1913, unless otherwise extended. Call on or phone

JNO. C. HOOE, Agent.

Job Printing at This Office.

NOW AT YOUR SERVICE

Our buyers have returned from the Eastern Cities and have, as usual, bought of all the best the markets afford in Suits, Coats, Dresses and Millinery. Also Dress Goods, Silks, Trimmings and General Dry Goods. The Home of Wooltex Suits and Coats.

We Have Nothing But The Latest In New Goods To Show You!

An Early Call Will Be To Your Advantage!

ANNUAL FALL MILLINERY OPENING Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 23d and 24th.

THAW WAS DEPORTED

Unceremoniously Hustled Out Of Canada—Now held in New Hampshire.

Harry K. Thaw, fugitive from Mattewan, after being thrust across the Canadian border by the Dominion immigration authorities yesterday, was that night quizzed in a hotel at Colebrook, N. H., having been arrested during his flight in an automobile. He had made application for a writ of habeas corpus.

Quite Stuck Up.

Inez Moore, aged 12 years, had a painful experience when she fell into a barrel of pitch. Several barrels of the pitch had been unloaded in a vacant lot used in laying streets. The girl was playing on top of the barrels and didn't notice that the heading was out of one barrel. She slipped into the sticky mass which had been heated to a considerable depth by the hot sun. She sank to her knees and all efforts to extract her failed for over an hour. Finally she was worked out of the pitch until her shoe laces could be cut and she could slip her feet out. The shoes were never recovered and a garden fork and ax that were used in trying to chop her out are also still firmly fastened in the pitch.

A large crowd was attracted by the unusual accident. Further than soreness from the pulling and hauling and minor bruises the girl is unhurt.

For Sale.

Handsome cart and pony. Phone 675. MRS. M. H. WOOD. 927 South Main. Advertisement.

L. & N.

Time Card No. 136

Effective Sunday, Jan. 5, 1913.

TRAINS GOING SOUTH.

No. 33—C. & N. O. Lim. 11:56 p. m.
No. 51—St. L. Express 5:35 p. m.
No. 90—Dixie Limited, 10:41 p. m.
No. 95—Dixie Flyer, 9:01 a. m.
No. 55—Hopkinsville Ac. 7:03 a. m.
No. 53—St. L. Fast Mail 5:33 a. m.

TRAINS GOING NORTH.

No. 92—C. & St. L. Lim., 5:25 a. m.
No. 52—St. Louis Express, 9:51 a. m.
No. 93—Dixie Limited, 7:03 a. m.
No. 94—Dixie Flyer, 6:53 p. m.
No. 56—Hopkinsville Ac. 8:55 p. m.
No. 54—St. L. Fast Mail, 10 p. m.

Nos. 95 and 94 will make Nos. 90 and 91's stops except 94 will not stop at Mannington and No. 95 will not stop at Mannington or Empire.

Nos. 5 and 54 connect at St. Louis for states west.

No. 51 connects at Guthrie for Memphis and points as far south as Erin, and for Louisville, Cincinnati and the East.

Nos. 53 and 55 make direct connections at Guthrie for Louisville, Cincinnati and all points north and east thereof. Nos. 53 and 55 also connect for Memphis and way points.

No. 92 runs through to Chicago and will not carry passengers to points south of Evansville.

No. 93 carries through sleepers to Atlanta, Macon, Jacksonville, St. Augustine and Tampa, Fla. Also Pullman sleepers to New Orleans. Connects at Guthrie for points East and West. No. 93 will not carry local passengers for points north of Nashville, Tenn.

J. C. HOGE, Agt.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK EDITION OF THE NEW YORK WORLD

Practically a Daily at the Price of a Weekly.

No Other Newspaper in the World Gives So Much at So Low a Price.

This is a time of great events and you will want the news accurate and promptly. The Democrats, for the first time in sixteen years, will have the Presidency and they will also control both branches of Congress. The political news is sure to be of the most absorbing interest.

There is a great war in the World, and you may read of the conclusion of the vast Turkish Empire in Europe, just as a few years ago you read how Spain lost her last foot of soil in America, after having ruled the empire of half the New World.

The World long since established a record for impartiality, and anybody can afford its Thrice-a-Week edition, which comes every other day in the week, except Sunday. It will be of particular value to you now. The Thrice-a-Week World is so abundant in other strong features: serial stories, humor, market's, cartoons; in fact, everything that is to be found in a first class daily.

THE THRICE-A-WEEK WORLD'S regular subscription price is only $1.00 per year, and this pays for 156 papers. We offer this unequalled newspaper and the Hopkinsville Kentuckian together for one year for $2.65.

The regular subscription price of the two papers is $3.00.

The Purpose of an Advertisement is to serve your needs. It will help sell your goods—talk to the people you want to reach. An advertisement in this paper is a reference guide to those whose wants are worth supplying.

TO MAKE KITCHEN VERITABLE RESTING PLACE

The millennium in housekeeping has been foretold by the progressive president of the New Jersey State Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Frank A. Pattison of Colonia, N. J.

Mrs. Pattison's vision of release for the housewife is fairly a revelation. In a recent interview she foretold that in a not far distant day by means of motor power the housekeeper will do all her work, when labor saving devices will have been perfected to such an extent that the objectionable feature of housekeeping will have vanished and home mechanics will have superseded outworn methods of cleaning, cooking and household management.

The president of the New Jersey federation is not talking in generalities, nor basing her belief simply upon hearsay and a knowledge that progress is in the air. She is daily demonstrating the theories that she advances, and in her home has installed an experiment station which the women of the state are watching with keen interest and hope.

This station is one of the most practical and valuable contributions to the progress of the day that has ever been made by clubwomen. It typifies their determination to help themselves and each other and to aid in the struggle for better homes and better families that is going on in every part of the country.

The experiment station consists of kitchen, dining room and bedroom, all wired with electricity, supplied with motor power to grind the coffee, run the washing machine, mix the bread, polish the silver and turn the churn. The latest electrical devices are in constant use.

Every new invention that makes a particular appeal to the housewife because it is supposed to save time and labor is tried out at the station.

Those that prove satisfactory and contribute in the solution of the problem of simplified living are marked valuable and kept to be recommended to others who are striving to be released from the thrall of work which is never done. Those which are misrepresentations or which are not actual aids in conserving time and labor are dropped after they have been tested and found wanting.

Four different methods of cooking have been installed in the experiment station which has been established in an addition to Mrs. Pattison's home. Coal, gas, denatured alcohol and electricity are each being given a trial. Most of the cooking is done with electricity, which the president of the federation believes will give the meals of the coming generations.

TALKED OF AS NEXT BRITISH PRIME MINISTER

Question—Who is the best-abused man in Great Britain today? Answer—

The Right Hon. Reginald McKenna.

And there is no doubt about the answer, either. Lloyd-George isn't in it for a moment with poor McKenna, for the astute Welsh statesman has plenty of people to stand up for him, whereas his fellow cabinet minister hasn't much of anybody, except, maybe, his chum Asquith.

Nearly everything important and significant that has happened in England lately has happened in the department of the secretary of state for home affairs, the equivalent to some extent of the American secretary of the interior. But whereas Franklin Knight Lane, of California, started in with a comparatively clean slate, the McKenna slate is ribaldry scribbled over by militant suffragettes with bombs in their skirt-pockets; by railway unions who are again figuring on schemes for starving London by colossal railway strikes, and by all sorts of other victims of mad makers of internal troubles that are too much for McKenna, and, maybe, for anybody else.

The queer thing about it is that this hapless secretary, who has somehow kept tumbling up from high office to high office, each more important than the last, is now being talked of seriously as the successor to the premiership, Mr. Asquith having intimated plainly that he can't stand the strain much longer. Will McKenna get it?

Quite a lot of people would like to know the answer to this question, most of all, perhaps, the militant suffragettes, whose previous mild contempt for McKenna has turned to implacable hatred now that he actually has taken steps to suppress them, not to mention George Bernard Shaw, who recently suggested that the home secretary should be examined by a commission of medical experts, on the ground that he is laboring under the delusion that he is the czar, and Sir Victor Horsley, the famous scientist, who has just accused McKenna of first attacking his veracity and then declining to come into the open and substantiate his charges, and finally of intriguing against him at the Royal College of Surgeons.

All of which doesn't worry McKenna.

AMERICAN WIFE OF BARON IN ANCESTRAL HALL

"I am delighted to enter the gates of Stonor Park for the first time to take up my abode in this ancient seat of my husband's family," said Lady Camoys, radiantly happy, the other day.

Lord Camoys and his wife, who was Miss Mildred Sherman of New York, came into their own and took possession of Stonor Park, five miles from Henley-on-Thames (England). They came in a motor ambulance, for Lady Camoys is still in delicate health.

Lady Camoys is still in delicate health.

his father is immensely proud, was born only three weeks ago. He weighed eight pounds, and is brawny, worthy of his ancestor, Sir Thomas de Camoys, who commanded the English right wing at Agincourt. The baby, his nurse and three fine dogs arrived at Stonor in a motor car.

So the welcome, at the baron's request, was not too noisy. But the village blacksmith beat a few de jole on his anvil, the tenants cheered, flags flagged the air, across the road banners were strung, "Long life and prosperity to Lord and Lady Camoys," beer flowed, and the villagers were their lord's guests at a bountiful luncheon which satisfied even the plowmen.

Henry Coventry, who had occupied Stonor Park for five years, vacated it several weeks ago, before the expiration of his lease, so that the house might be renovated and redecorated for the occasion.

SECRETARY LANE'S RECEPTION TO CLERKS

The employees of the interior department at Washington, numbering approximately 5,000, were tendered a reception by Secretary Lane in the courtyard of the patent office building, between 4:30 and 6:30 o'clock the other evening. The reception was given to have the employees meet the heads of the several bureaus who have been appointed since the beginning of the new administration.

Besides the secretary, those in the receiving line were A. A. Jones, first assistant secretary; A. C. Miller, assistant secretary; Clay Tallman, commissioner of the general land office; A. N. Saltzger, commissioner of pensions; Thomas Ewing, Jr., who is to be commissioner of patents; Cato Selis, commissioner of Indian affairs; and Will R. King, general counsel for the reclamation service.

The courtyard was decorated with American flags and with numerous signal flags borrowed from the navy department. A section of the United States Marine band was located in the northeast corner of the yard and furnished music during the entire period. H. A. Meyer, private secretary to Secretary Lane, introduced the employees to the officials.

Dika Butter. In a monograph on this subject by the celebrated oil chemist, E. Millau, published in 1906, attention is called to the excellent properties of an edible grease, called Dika butter, which is similar to cocoa butter, and in some respects better.

This grease is extracted from the seed of the tree Irvingia gabonensis, indigenous to the west coast of Africa. The seed contains about 67 per cent of grease, which is somewhat more than copra. The melting point is 41 degrees, Centigrade, against 26 degrees for cocoa. The color is yellow-orange, and for this reason might become very useful to the makers of oleomargarine. The cake left after pressing is edible. All of the products are very stable and keep a long time without becoming rancid. The United States seems to be importing increasing quantities of copra, the figures (not including desiccated or shredded cocoanut) being in 1910, 26,838,690 pounds; in 1911, 46,961,763 pounds, and in 1912, 62,168,440 pounds.—Consular Report From Marseilles.

SAYS LOT IS HARD

Countess Says Daughters of Aristocracy Can't Marry.

Complains Because Their Brothers Wed Actresses and Rich American Girls, While They Are Limited to Professional Men.

A well-known, but unnamed countess, writing in a London publication, unburies her mind as follows: Social tendencies of today make it a handicap for a girl to be the daughter of a peer—unless he is enormously rich.

What do we see? Most of our young men of title, if they are not choosing their wives from the variety stage or from musical comedy, are going to America for them.

But does one ever hear of an actor marrying a girl of title? Does one ever hear of an American gentleman marrying an English girl of title?

I know of only one instance. She is the daughter of an earl, and had the misfortune to lose her American husband a few years after marriage.

Occasionally a self-made Englishman shows a tendency to marry into the aristocracy, but it frequently happens in such cases that the wooer is not acceptable to the young lady at whom he sets his cap. He is generally very much older, perhaps old enough to be her father, and he has spent his best years in making his "pile."

The English girl accepts the rivalry of the American girl with the best grace possible. The American certainly brings money with her, and money has always been a recognized weapon in the fight for marriage. But she is, to put it quite frankly, just a little resentful of these stage marriages.

Of course we have always had peers marrying actresses since actresses first made their appearance on the boards in the time of Charles II. There was the marriage of the twelfth Lord Derby to Eliza Farren, from whom Lord Wilton is descended.

Later on the first earl of Craven, to mention but one other instance, married Louisa Brunton, the great-grandmother of the present Lord Craven.

But in all these instances the actress was famous in her profession quite apart from her marriage to a peer. Nowadays, however, it is not always absolutely necessary to be a first-rate or even a second-rate actress to catch an old title.

No wonder our girls, my own among them, are thinking that the surest way to matrimony is to go on the stage. What a commotion there would be if one morning it were announced that Lady Rose—the daughter of the earl of — were engaged to Mr. Brown, the third-rate actor? Yet why, for if her brother puts a coronet on the head of Miss Brown, the third-rate actress, nobody is shocked?

It will come to this, that our girls, many of them, will have to make up their minds to accept middle-class professional men. Already a fair number of them are married to doctors, solicitors, architects and parsons. At one time it would have been looked upon as a dreadful mesalliance for the daughter of an earl to wed a solicitor or a doctor.

Officers of the army and navy, barristers and clergymen were regarded as of a higher social rank, but even with the clergy, at least those of the lower grade, there was a time when they were held to be suitably matched if they paired off with the lady's maids.

Because our young men of title will have their own way and marry out of their order, their sisters will be compelled to look lower for their own husbands. Many of my peeress friends have found no difficulty in marrying their daughters in their own station of life, but I know other cases where whole families of five, six or seven girls are "on the shelf." Some turn to nursing, some take up philanthropic work, some are ardent suffragists. But if they were quite frank about it they would confess that they would sooner be wives.

Associations of Leadenhall Street.

Leadenhall street, which the city fathers of London are widening, is popularly associated with poultry, but possesses many literary and political memories. On the South side, near the entrance to the market, stood "John Company's" East India house, where the two austere Mills and their spiritual antithesis, Charles Lamb, were once clerks. In this street Gibbon's great-grandfather won the wealth that gave the historian leisure for his task; and here Peter Motteux, the translator of "Don Quixote," kept a tea-shop. Nos. 156 and 157 stand partly on the site where the little midshipman in "Domby and Son" used to hang out. It was at the house of Lord Mayor Allen in Leadenhall street that General Monk dined on the fateful day he finally broke with parliament; and at a vanished hostelry called the King's Head the Jacobites plotted for the restoration of the Old Pretender.

Strange Effect.

"Brother Steadman, you mustn't mind my telling you that I didn't think your sermon last Sunday was anywhere near up to your mark. It seemed kind of tain and wishy-washy like."

"But think, Sister Millisap, what a hot day it was! The heads of my sermon just wilted and couldn't hold themselves up, and my ideas all melted and ran together."

Kentucky State Fair

SEPTEMBER 15 to 20, 1913

The Kentucky State Fair will offer to the farmers and livestock exhibitors an opportunity to exhibit best products of their farms and best specimens of livestock and to the women an opportunity to display their handiwork and cookery at the 1913 Fair, for which liberal premiums are offered.

$30,000 in Premiums

6-BIG DAYS-6 Reduced Railroad Rates

For Information, Entry Blanks, Catalog, Etc., address

J. L. DENT, Secretary,

705 PAUL JONES BUILDING

LOUISVILLE

Louisville Daily Herald

Hopkinsville Kentuckian

Both One Year For

$4.00

For a short time and until further notice the above special rate will obtain.

"Onyx" Hosiery

THE Best Hose for the entire family, Men, Women and Children, can always be found in the "Onyx" Brand.

For Quality, Style and Wear, get a pair of "Onyx" Hose in Cotton, Lisle, Silk Lisle or Pure Silk, from 25c. to $5.00 per pair—none genuine without trade-mark stamped on every pair. Sold by all dealers.

Lord & Taylor - - New York

Wholesale Distributors

BUY YOUR COAL NOW

St. Bernard Diamond is the best on the market. Phone me for prices.

PAUL WINN,

Yards 7th and R. R. Sts.

Phone 158

DO THEY GO TO BED AT 6 P. M?

MR. MERCHANT:

Attractive window displays are tremendously effective in impressing both your new and old customers. Do you think it worth while to Light your show-windows the modern way.

IF IT IS ELECTRIC

IT IS MODERN.

Ky. Public Service Co.

Incorporated.

Dr. R. F. McDaniel Practice Limited to Diseases of Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat.

J. B. Allensworth,
Attorney-at-Law, Office: Bohn Building, Up Stairs, Front Court House.
R. L. MYRE, same office. Collections a specialty.

DR. G. P. ISBELL
Veterinary Physician & Surgeon Office and Hospital Cor. 7th and Railroad.
Both Phones

HUGH MCSHANE,
THE PLUMBER.
Phone 950, Cor. 10th & Liberty

Hotel Latham
Barber Shop
Bath Rooms. Four First Class Artists.
FRANK BOYD, PROP.

Dr. M. W. Rozzell
Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat
SPECIALIST
Eyes Tested. Glasses Fitted.
Office at Residence, Cor. 7th and Clay Sts., one block East of Hotel Latham. Phone 1033.
Hopkinsville, - - - Kentucky.

10 AND 15c
PER COPY
ALL THE LATE
Rag Songs, Etc.
AT Blythe's
DRUG STORE.
COR. 9TH and CLAY

POPULAR MECHANICS Magazine
GIVEN SO YOU CAN UNDERSTAND IT GREAT Continued Story of the World's Progress which you may begin reading at any time, and which will hold your interest forever.
225 PAGES EACH MONTH 300 PICTURES
200 ARTICLES OF GENERAL INTEREST
The "Shop Notes" Department (20 pages) gives easy ways to do things—how to make useful articles for home and shop, repairs, etc.
"Amateur Mechanics" (10 pages) tells how to make Mission furniture, wireless outfits, boats, engines, magic, and all the things a boy loves.
$1.00 PER YEAR. SINGLE COPIES 15 CENTS Ask your newsdealer, or write for FREE SAMPLE COPY TODAY POPULAR MECHANICS CO.
315 W. Washington St., CHICAGO

Madam, Read McCall's
The Fashion Authority
McCALL'S is a large, artistic, beautifully illustrated 100-page monthly Magazine that is adding to the beauty and efficiency of 1,000,000 women each month.
Each issue is bristling with fashion, beauty, work, interesting short stories, and scores of labor-saving and money-saving hints for women. There are more than 20 the newest designs of the celebrated McCALL PATTERNS in each issue.
McCALL PATTERNS are famous for style, fit, simplicity and economy. Only 5 and 15 cents each.
The publishers of McCALL'S will send thousands of dollars extra in the coming months in order to keep McCALL'S head and shoulders above all other women's magazines at any price. However, McCALL'S is only 50c a year; positively worth $1.00.
You May Save Any One McCall Pattern Free from your first copy of McCALL'S. If you subscribe quickly.
THE McCALL COMPANY, 236 West 37th St., New York
NOTE—Ask for a free copy of McCALL'S; it's wonderful full new premium catalogue. Sample copy and pattern catalogue also free on request.

How It Happened.
Weary Willy—Lady, I wuz wunst a prosperous merchant. I hed a luxurious home, an honorable name, an ten bloomin' an' highly educated daughters.
Mrs. Wellment—What brought you to poverty?
Weary Willy—My daughters insisted on marryin' highly educated men, an' I hed ter support ten families.—
Puck.

In Colonial Days.
The Settler's Wife—Why should we go any further into the wilderness?
Why not build our cabin here where there are eight or ten families already?
The Settler—Gadzooks! What wouldst thou? A couple of hundred years from now there would be folks around here blowing that our family isn't the oldest in the place.—Puck.

Beautiful Names.
"We must have a beautiful name for the baby," said the fond mother.
"Something that sounds like poetry and is not at all commonplace."
"Well," replied the fond father,
"I'm doing my best to help you make a selection. Here's a list of the names of all the apartment houses in town."

Better Plan.
"Why does Pufferly smoke such long cigars?"
"They're the cheap kind and he likes to have them as far from his face as possible."
"I know a better plan than that."
"What is it?"
"He might use a wind shield."

REALISTIC.
Wang—How long were you on the raft and without food?
Bang—Three days and nights.
Wang—And how did you stand it?
Bang—Oh! all right! I made myself believe I was at home, that we had no maid and my wife was doing the cooking.

Tight Fits.
The latest news concerning hats—
The kind that stylish women wear.
Is that they'll do away with "rats"
And clamp down close upon the hair.

Rialto Gossip.
"There goes Susan Brett," remarked Yorick Hamm. "She loves to hear herself talk."
"Then it must be a great trial to her," responded Hamlet Fatt, "to have to work all the time for the Movies."

Threatened Men.
"Do you think a man whose life has been threatened should be permitted to carry a gun?"
"No. It would spoil the appearance of the game to see the umpire standing around with a six-shooter in his pocket."

Repenting at Leisure.
Shimmerpate—I understand Beanbrough fell in love with his wife at first sight.
Hemmandhaw—Yes; and now he is sorry he didn't take a second look.— Judge.

Musical.
"That tenor has musical bones."
"Yes," replied the man with a square jaw; "and if he doesn't stop his efforts to flirt some man is going to get a club and see how near he does for a bass drum."

Out of Sympathy.
"What happened to the clock in the labor hall?"
"Oh, it wouldn't strike any more, so the boys pitched it out and got a new one."

Good Night!
The clock had just struck 11:55.
"I am thinking of going," he said.
"Well, never put off until tomorrow what you can do today," she said.

A Splendid Tonic.
Cora, Ky.—Mrs. Iva Moore, of this place, says: "I was so weak, I could hardly walk. I tried Cardui, and was greatly relieved. It is a splendid tonic. I have recommended Cardui to many friends, who tried it with good results." Testimony like this comes unsolicited, from thousands of earnest women, who have been benefited by the timely use of that successful tonic medicine, Cardui. Purely vegetable, mild, but reliable, Cardui well merits its high place in the esteem of those who have tried it. It relieves women's pains, and strengthens weak women.
It is certainly worth a trial. Your druggist sells Cardui.
Advertisement.

Hopkinsville Market Quotations.

Corrected September 1, '13

RETAIL GROCERY PRICES.

Country lard, good color and clean 14c and 15c per pound.
Country bacon, 17c per pound.
Black-eyed peas, $3.25 per bushel.
Country shoulders, 15c per pound.
Country hams, 21c per pound.
Irish potatoes, $1.50 per bushel.
Northern eating Rural potatoes
$1.50 per bushel
Texas eating onions, $1.75 per bushel, new stock Dried Navy beans, $3.25 per bushel
Cabbage, 6 cents a pound.
Dried Lima beans, 60c per gallon.
Country dried apples, 10c per pound, 3 for 25c
Daisy cream cheese, 25c per pound
Full cream brick cheese, 25c per pound
Full cream Limberger cheese, 25c per pound
Popcorn, dried on ear, 2c per pound
Fresh Eggs 25c per doz Choice lots fresh, well-worked country butter, in pound prints, 30c.
FRUITS.
Lemons, 30c per doz.
Navel Oranges, 50c per doz.
Bananas, 15c and 20c doz
Cash Price Paid For Produce.

POULTRY.
Dressed hens, 12c per pound
Dressed cocks, 7c per pound
Live hens, 11c per pound; live cocks 3c per pound; live turkeys, 14c per pound
ROOTS, HIDES, WOOL AND TALLOW.
Prices paid by wholesale dealers to butchers and farmers:
Roots—Southern ginseng, $5.75 lb
"Golden Seal" yellow root, $1.35 lb
Mayapple, 3c; pink root, 12c and 13c
Tallow—No. 1, 4c; No. 2, 4c.
Wool—Burry, 10c to 17c; Clear
Grease, 21c. medium, tub washed 23c to 30c; coarse, dingy, tubwashed 18c.
Feathers—Prime white goose, 50c dark and mixed old goose, 15c to 30c; gray mixed, 15c to 30c; white duck, 22c to 35c, new.
Hides and Skins—These quotations are for Kentucky hides. Southern green hides 8c. We quote assorted lots dry flint, 12c to 14c. 9-10 better demand Dressed geese, 11c per pound for choice lots, live 5c Fresh country eggs, 10 cents per dozen
Fresh country butter 25c lb.
A good demand exists for spring chickens, and choice lots of fresh country butter
HAY AND GRAIN.
No. 1 timothy hay, $20 00
No. 1 clover hay, $18 00
Clean, bright straw hay, 25c bale Alfalfa hay, $21 00
White seed oats, 50c
Black seed oats, 50c
Mixed seed oats, 65c
No. 2 white corn, 80c
Winter wheat bran, $27.00.

THE ITALIAN TREATMENT.
The Italians resort to a very simple method when they wish to obliterate the injurious effects of salt air and sunshine after a visit to their villas, the shore of the Adriatic, the Tyrrhenian sea or the lakes. They bathe the face with the white of an egg, well beaten, let it dry on the skin and rinse it off in soft water after fifteen minutes. The treatment is repeated three or four times, and always at night just before retiring.

MADAME DEAN'S FRENCH FEMALE PILLS.
A Safe, Certain Remedy for Menstrual Disorders.
NEVER KNOWN TO FAIL. Relieves Painful Menstruation, Excessive Discharge of Blood, Richness, Painful Urination, or Urinary Disorders. Each package contains 10 pills. With each box on trial, to be paid for when relieved. Reasonable Price. If your druggist does not have them send your order to the UNITED MEDICAL CO., 404 74, LANSING, PA.
Sold in Hopkinsville by The Anderson-Fowler Drug Co.
Incorporated.

QUITE CORRECT.

A showman landed an announcement stating, "Come and see the great sawed fish!"
A learned gentleman read it, and informed the showman that he had made a mistake in the word "sawed;" that it ought to be "sawd."
"Yer'd better come in an' see fer yerself; the admission is only tup-pence," said the showman.
So the learned man paid his "tup-pence," went in and was shown a large cod-fish sawed in half.
"Yen ain't the fust genelman wot has tried to teach me 'ow to spell; but I tell yer I've 'ad a good education, an' I'm runnin' this show jist to show people I 'ave," grinned the showman.
The learned gentleman left, deeply indignant with the world in general and the showman in particular.

Hoopskirt Memories.

Ethel (jokingly)—When you were graduated, mamma, I'll wager your mother didn't give you as pretty a hob-ble-skirt frock as you have given me.
Mamma (eyeing Ethel's entire rigging out)—My dear child, when I was graduated it took more cloth to make my dress, yard for yard, than the whole class of you girls are going to wear.

AS EXPLAINED.

Jack—He made his money in automobiles and football.
Orme—He doesn't look like a sporting man.
Jack—No; he's a doctor.

After Vacation.

The dame was rather willowy
Before she went away.
The salt air made her plump;
Gained forty pounds, they say.

Sure Loss.

Mrs. Johnson—Jes' hide youah money in a Bible, M's Jackson. Nobody evah looks in a Bible, you know.
Mrs. Jackson (with a gasp)—Oh Lawd! I'd lost it shuah! Mah ole man's very religious, an' reads de Bible twice a day.—Puck.

In South America.

"Come, let us prepare our slate.
We must have Senator Paprika for some office on the ticket. He is indispensable."
"Why is he indispensable?" inquired the American consul.
"He owns the only machine gun we have."

Dangerous.

"What is the charge?" asked the judge, as the venerable person with the side whiskers was brought forward.
"Insanity, your honor. We found him on the Rialto, singing 'I Want to Be an Angel.'"—Puck.

Self-Evident Truth.

Mrs. Wellment (bestowing a dime) —Poor fellow! You say your wife and family are starving—where are they?
Weary Willy—Dey are boardin' at do summer hotel, lady.—Puck.

A STAR.

The City Man—How did you enjoy the opera last night?
The Countryman—Fine. The feller that hollered "Op'ry books! Books of th' op'ry!" had a great voice.

Not Too Simple.
The simple life would suit my bent.
I'd seek the forest path
If I knew just where I could rent
A cavern with a bath.

As He Found It.
"So you claim the world is round," sneered the skeptic. "How do you know that it is not square?"
"Because I have had too many dealings with it," grimly replied Columbus Florida Times-Union.

Rare Combination.
"Who are that couple who seem to be having such a good time?"
"In one way, they are opposites."
"How so?"
"He is a sad dog and she is a merry widow."

SOOT-I-CIDE

CLEANS FLUES
And Removes Soot from Stove Pipes

IF

Your stoves smoke and won't draw get a box of SOOT-I-CIDE and end your troubles. Price 25c.

FOR SALE BY Anderson & Fowler Drug Co.,
Incorporated.

I CARRY THE MOST COMPLETE LINE OF Staple and Fancy
Groceries
Of any house in the city. Give me a call when you want something good to eat.
Country Produce Bought and Sold.
Nice Line Fruit and Candy Always On Hand
J. K. TWYMAN
204 South Main

E. H. HESTER
Contractor and Builder BUILDING MATERIAL
HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY
PHONE 540. OFFICES 106 SOUTH VIRGINIA STREET
Flooring, Ceiling, Laths, Shingles, Sash, Doors and Moulding.
Window Glass. Paints, Oils, Etc.

When You Come To Town Go To THE REX
THEATRE
An hour of pleasant entertainment. Admission
5 and 10 cents.

WHY DO YOU LOAN YOUR MONEY AT 6 PER CENT
When you can invest it in Real Estate that will pay you 15 per cent. to 25 per cent.? Examine our list below.
For Sale a large two story warehouse and small store rooms, right in the busy section of city, monthly rental of $32.00. Price $2,750.
Two neat little cottages, South side, Rent at $16.00 per month, price for quick sale $1,500. Cash for the two.
125 acres splendid farm land 2 1/2 miles from city, present crop is worth $1,200.00, our price $3,400.
100 Acre Farm, all level North Christian land, fair improvements, average crop this year 50 bu. corn, 850 lbs. tobacco per acre, our price $20 per acre.
HOMESTEAD INVESTMENT AGENCY.

SEE
McClaid & Armstrong
DEALERS IN GRANITE AND MARBLE MONUMENTS, CUT STONE, ALL KINDS OF CONCRETE WORK.
Marble Yards and Office N. Main Street, Between 1st and 2nd Sts.
HOPKINSVILLE, KY.
Cumb. Telephone 490.

DR. R. L. BRADLEY, Treats all diseases of domesticated animals scientifically and performs all Veterinary Surgeon and Dentist operations known to the Veterinary profession. Special attention given to the shoeing of horses with diseased feet.
Office, Infirmary and Shoeing Forge
8th, bet. Main and Water Sts.
Office Phone, 211.
Night Phone, 127.
Night Phone Home, 1479.

HOME COMING DURING FAIR

Committee of Five Named are to Perfect Arrangements.

TO REPORT PROGRESS 17TH

Should Be Greatest Feature of the Five Big Days of the Fair.

Five gentlemen of known activity have been named as a committee to arrange for a general home coming during the Pennyroyal Fair, beginning Tuesday, October 7th and continuing through the week, day and night.

The committee have been notified of their appointment by B. Gordon Nelson, secretary of the fair, and are asked to get together at once and take initial steps towards making this feature one of the best of the week. They are asked to make the first report to the meeting of the directors next Wednesday, the 17th.

It has been many years since Hopkinsville had a Home Coming Week and it was a grand success. Hopkinsville people who had taken up their residence in the different parts of the Union, took advantage of the low fares that had been secured by the promoters and were here by the hundreds.

The Pennyroyal Fair will be the largest and best in this section of Kentucky and attendance from different counties will exceed anything ever before known. A better time for Home Coming Week could not be imagined and the committee will doubtless be able to so perfect arrangements that will induce Hopkinsville people who are now living in the North, South, East and West to once more find their way back to their old home and meet relatives and old friends for the first time in many years.

FINE MEETING

Starts Off the Literary Year
For the Athenaeum.

The first meeting of the Athenaeum for the fall was held at Hotel Latham Thursday night with 17 members present.

Two most excellent papers were read.

Rev. A. R. Kasey wrote on "A Look at China," a most interesting historical sketch with a prophecy of future development.

Mr. T. C. Underwood's paper, "Parnassus, Ky.," was a thoroughly comprehensive review of literary activity in Kentucky and a glance at practically all of living writers who have made a name in Literature.

Both papers were discussed by many members.

J. W. Dwyer, Ira L. Smith and H. C. Smith were made the membership committee for this year. Two vacancies exist, made by the removal of Prof. D. A. Clark and Capt. A. G. Chapman from the city, which will be filled at the October meeting.

Big Turnips.

Mr. H. P. Rives is delivering his turnip crop in the city this week, samples of which weigh as high as 26 ounces. The crop is a fine one considering the season.

Pioneer of Psychology.
The modern science of psychology, was brought to this country by G. Stanley Hall, who established a laboratory of psychology at Johns Hopkins university as early as 1883.

BASEBALL

STANDING OF CLUBS.

Clubs.	W.	L.	Pct.
Clarksville	78	45	.634
Paducah	78	46	.629
Hopkinsville	71	53	.573
Henderson	67	55	.549
Owensboro	66	56	.541
Cairo	56	65	.463
Harrisburg	42	83	.336
Vincennes	34	89	.276

The closing series of the season between Hopkinsville and Harrisburg was transferred to Hopkinsville, and Harrisburg took the first game Thursday afternoon by the score of 8 to 7. Manager Kalkoff of Hopkinsville protested the game because only nine Harrisburg men were on the grounds in uniform. Score: R. H. E. Harrisburg.....9 11 3 Hopkinsville.....7 9 6

Batteries—Irvin and Hodge, Hikes and Kalkoff.

Owing to the rain, no game was played yesterday and there will be a double-header this afternoon. The first game will be called at 2:15.

Wednesday.

Owensboro 1, Paducah 0.
Henderson 4, Clarksville 4.
Hopkinsville 11, Cairo 4.
Harrisburg 7, Vincennes 1.

Thursday.

Paducah 9, Clarksville 4.
Harrisburg 8, Hopkinsville 7.
No other games.

CITY AND COUNTY

Corporations Assessed By The State Board.

The County Clerk has received from H. M. Bosworth, State Auditor, the valuation and assessment of the different corporations of the city and county for taxes for the year 1913, and the tax collector is directed to collect same. The following is the list and valuation of the properties:

American Ex. Co.	$ 8,608
Hopkinsville Sewerage Co.	$ 4,800
Western Union Telegraph Co.	$17,378
Hopkinsville Home Tele. Co.	$20,000
Postal Tel. & Cable Co.	$ 1,040
Pullman Co. 31 M.	$ 5,877
Ky. Public Service Co.	$46,442
Hopkinsville Water Co.	$19,815
Central Home Tele. Co.	$ 1,964
White Plains Tele. Co.	$ 144
Pembroke L. & P. Co.	$ 3,760

The above list does not include the assessment against the Christian-Todd Telephone Co., and two or three other corporations; not yet completed by the State Board of valuation and assessment, which will be sent to County Clerk Stowe shortly.

Hopkinsville Tobacco Market.

Below is Inspector Abernathy's weekly report for week ending Sept. 5, 1913:

Receipts for week	21 Hhds.
Receipts for year	2774 Hhds.
Sales for week	8 Hhds.
Sales for year	2431 Hhds.

LOOSE FLOORS.

Sales for week	0 Lbs.
Sales for season	10,293,315 Lb.

After Night Riders.

Henderson, Ky., Sept. 12.—The grand jury of this county has begun an exhaustive investigation into the night rider depredations. The night riders destroyed hundreds of plant beds and frightened by night rider letters many farmers into plowing up their tobacco. They were so thoroughly organized that they cut the crop to a little over 10 per cent of normal in this immediate locality, causing a loss of probably ten to fifteen million pounds of tobacco. The circuit judge is now insisting that they be brought to justice, and the grand jury is calling in scores of witnesses to secure indictments.

TOBACCO BARN IS BUUNED

Loss on Barn and Tobacco Was Very Heavy on Stephen
P. Moseley.

NO INSURANCE ON EITHER.

Building Caught On Fire While Firing Was Being Done.

Stephen P. Moseley lost his tobacco barn last Thursday morning at about 9 o'clock. The barn was worth $600 and the fifteen acres of tobacco, which was being cured, was worth about $1,500. The fire originated in one corner of the barn and the tobacco was soon in flames. Lucian Moseley, a son of the owner of the crop, was firing the tobacco and as soon as the fire started he gave the alarm. The barn and the tobacco was a mass of flames in a few minutes and all efforts to save any part of the crop were useless.

The loss, amounting to $2,000, was a total loss to Mr. Moseley, as he had no insurance on either the barn or the tobacco.

When you want fire,
tornado, life or bond insurance in the...
Oldest and Strongest

Companies, see

H. D. WALLACE, office up stairs, over Anderson -- Fowler drug store, corner Ninth and Main or

Office 395
Residence 644
Home
Phone 117

CAUGHT AT CLARKSVILLE

Luton Jefferson Failed to Testify Against Man Charged With Killing His Wife.

Sheriff Johnson returned from Clarksville Thursday night, bringing with him Luton Jefferson, colored, and placed him in jail.

The Sheriff says Jefferson had been recognized in the sum of $100 to appear as a witness against Edder Waters, indicted for killing Jefferson's wife over a year ago. Waters' case has been called at three different terms of the Circuit Court, but the case had to be continued on account of the Commonwealth having but one witness, the husband of the dead woman. Jefferson will remain in jail at least until the case is tried, and will probably remain longer, as his fine and forfeiture of bond must be satisfied.

SALE NOT YET CONFIRMED

Not Likely That Y. M. C. A.
Building Will Go At $15,000.

The sale of the Y. M. C. A. building to C. O. Wright for $15,000 had not been confirmed yesterday by the committee composed of M. C. Forbes, R. E. Cooper, F. W. Dabney, Ira L. Smith and James West. Mr. West is out of town and a meeting could not be held.

It is considered unlikely that the sale will be confirmed. The property has cost $17,500 so far and is valued at $20,000 now.

We are prepared to do all kinds of high grade job printing. Try us.

A SILO

Is The Biggest Saver a Farmer Can Possibly Invest In.

Ensilage is the sweetest, purest food for both cattle and horses. They prefer it to corn, and corn is going to be scarce too.

Another Carload of Silos

Just in. Can get one without waiting a minute. Save 40 per cent. of corn crop.
The part usually thrown away.

FORBES MFG. CO.

Incorporated.

HOPKINSVILLE GIRL Sang at The Rex Theatre Last Night.

Miss Margaret Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Anderson, now of Knoxville, Tenn., made her debut before a Hopkinsville audience at The Rex Theatre last night. Miss Anderson is a native of Hopkinsville and is visiting her uncle, Mr. Frank L. Waller. She rather reluctantly agreed to sing one number, but her cousin, Robert Waller, assistant manager of the Rex, was so insistent that she finally yielded to his persuasion. She has been taking voice culture at the Conservatory of Music, Cincinnati, for some time and her teachers say she has a voice of peculiar sweetness. She is arranging to spend the winter in New York and will study under some of the best instructors in that city. Scores of her schoolmates and friends heard her last night and predict great success for her.

Different.
Willie—"Did the doctor make you take nasty medicine when you were sick?" Freddie—"No; it was father who made me take it."—Judge.

WILL WICKS Chosen Campaign Manager Of The Republican Party.

Wednesday night the local Republicans got together and after a discussion of the prospects of electing county officers at the approaching November election, made Will Wicks manager of the campaign. Mr. Wicks has been clerk at Cerulean during the season, having given up the management of the Eiks Home for that purpose. Mr. Wicks is to have his office in the Weber building.

Gov. McCreary Spoke.
Gov. McCreary delivered an address on "Kentucky's Part In the War of 1812" at a banquet before 1,000 people at Cedar Point, O., where festivities in connection with the Perry Victory Centennial are being held. Kentucky's new State flag was raised by Adj. Gen. J. Tardy Ellis amid impressive ceremonies.

Lifelike.
Bigamy: Three hearts that beat as one.—Life.

UNRULY COW Lays Up Officer Shanklin For Repairs.

Policeman W. E. Shanklin was painfully hurt by a cow Thursday evening. While he and Officer Carter were rounding up a cow for the pound, the animal, which had been roped, became unruly and her struggles threw Officer Shanklin down, bruising his shoulder and his hands were burned by the rope. He was not able to be on duty yesterday.

Engagement Announced.
Dr. and Mrs. Ernest L. Gates announce the engagement of their sister Cecil Victoria Carter to Mr. Archie K. Fleming, of Hopkinsville.
The wedding will take place November 20th. The bride-to-be is a daughter of Mr. W. D. Carter, of this city, who makes her home with her grand-father, Mr. Paul V. Carter, in the county. Mr. Fleming is a son of Mr. Kay Fleming. The young couple will reside in this city.

THE GREAT CIRCUS CATASTROPHE---GREAT NORTHERN FEATURE

At The REX To-day

Made By The Same COMPANY THAT PRODUCED THE BLACK CHANCELLOR and the FLYING CIRCUS.

The Picture Event of The Week, At The REX TO-DAY.